

WALL STREET
STOCKS TURN HIGHER ON REBOUND IN GRAIN LIST

Important Shares Which Had Declined 1 to 3 Points Net Generally Make Full Recovery and Gains Are Numerous.

WHEAT RISES 3 1/2 TO 4 1/2 FROM LOWS OF DAY

Trading in Stocks Remains Professional—Sales of 1,750,000 Shares Are About 200,000 Larger Than Last Session.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Sentiment on Wall Street was governed by the action of grain markets today. Bears sold short wheat and corn were short the earlier hours, but hastened to cover in the late afternoon on a rally in wheat. Initial stocks which had been down to three points net generally made full recovery and gains a fraction to a full point were numerous.

The advance on the Chicago wheat came in the last quarter of that market when buying started a scramble to cover. The wheat rose 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents a bushel from the early loss, which the close of the September futures had been only 1/4 above yesterday's post war minimum, but about a point under the close of the early loss.

Trading in stocks remained professional. There was a slight increase in volume at the height of the morning as some business offerings were absorbed. There was another pickup in trading during the final rally. Sales of 1,750,000 shares were reported, a point higher than the 1,550,000 shares larger than the previous session.

Bears Peek Various Sections. Operators for the decline peaked at various sections of the market. Having sold the utility and railroad shares yesterday, they turned first to the motion picture and radio shares and then to the farm implement and chain stores today. Grigsby-Grundy off 1/4, to a new low of 1/2. Recovered half of the four-point drop. International Harvester, also off 1/4, closed 1/2. J. I. Case, which opened at 4 points, closed 1 1/2.

Such favorites as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Westinghouse Electric, Radio General Electric finished at a point net higher after being out to three.

The gains in wheat ranged from 1/2 to 3/4 points. While corn slipped 1/4 to 1 point, cotton advanced 1/2 to 1 1/2 points. Foreign exchanges firmed, featured by a slight improvement in the dollar.

The New York money markets were comfortable. Call loans, ranging at 2 1/2 per cent, dropped to 2 per cent. Commercial paper was very active, but there was a change in rates.

The search for changes and leads in business news, now a favorite occupation of the financial community, revealed little that was new. Copper Exporters, Inc., cut the price of the red metal for export by 1/2 cent, but this action had been forecast in yesterday's report by smelters and producers.

In connection with signs that the steel industry was making to stabilize prices on steel products, there was some interest in the statement of Eugene G. Grace, Bethlehem's president, that prices were slowly strengthening. There had been a steady increase of 1/2 cent in the price of fabricated steel in New York.

G. M. Report on Deliveries. Reports that General Motors will have a record year for 1935, with a large extent than had been anticipated, were well received, for they came a day when one statistical report showed automobile production at the end of last week was at its lowest ebb of the year since the exception of the interval between the Ford shutdown. It was admitted, however, when the General Motors improvement was announced, that it was indicative of a change in trend.

Closing stock prices will be found on pages 13C, 14C and 15C.

REPUBLICANS OPEN HEADQUARTERS OF STATE CAMPAIGN

Canvass Begins From Offices in Title Guarantee Building, With Chairman
Curtis in Charge.

STATE SENATORIAL NOMINEE CHOSEN

Democratic City Committee Selects James L. Wren, Retiring Representative, to Run Against Bates.

Campaign activities of the Republican and Democratic State Committees began today with the opening of headquarters by the Republicans in the Title Guaranty building, and a conference of Chairman Howell of the Democratic Committee with members of the State and City Committees looking to the opening of headquarters.

Arthur M. Curtis of Springfield, chairman of the Republican State Committee; Mrs. John Wirth of St.
Joseph, vice chairman, and Mrs.
Helen Lang Rogers of Carthage, secretary, will be in charge of Republican headquarters.

A Fred Hill of Maryville, a member of the Public Service Commission, will be in charge of the publicity department; B. D.
McDonald of Lebanon, general counsel of the Public Service Commission, will direct the speakers' bureau; and George W. Wagner, State Building and Loan Supervisor, will have charge of organization work.

Charles M. Howell, chairman of the Democratic committee; Mrs.
Blanche Lewis of Mountain Grove, vice chairman, and Mrs. Ralph Swofford of Kansas City, will be in charge of Democratic headquarters.

James L. Wren Nominated for State Senator in 32nd District.

James L. Wren, a retiring State Representative from the Fourth District, defeated Rufus Jackson, a publicity agent, for the Democratic nomination for State Senator for the Thirty-second District at a convention of members of the Democratic City Committee from this district yesterday.

The vote was nine to eight, although several days ago Wren had filed a petition of nomination with the Election Board, bearing signatures of 16 of the 20 district committee members. The board held that a convention choice was necessary to fill the vacancy on the ticket and then seven committee members switched their votes.
Jackson had been drafted as the party candidate before the primary by a citizens' committee but did not file the proper declaration and was left off the ballot.

Wren, a lawyer, was defeated for re-nomination as a Representative in the primary. Efforts to substitute a third candidate for Wren or Jackson in the convention were fruitless. The Republican nominee is William Maffitt Bates, incumbent.

Committee members who voted for Wren were: Thomas F. Doran and Mrs. J. Edward Bates of the Fourteenth Ward, John A. Lynch and Mrs. Mary Hanson of the Sixteenth, Dewey Godfrey and Mrs.
Margaret Williams of the Seventeenth, Clarence Hammond and Mrs. Charles Cornell of the Twenty-third, and Mrs. Ann Donegan of the Twenty-fifth. Those voting for Jackson were: State Senator Kinney and Mrs. Charles Hahn of the Fifth, Chairman George Murphy of the Fifteenth, Harry J.
Cantwell of the Twenty-fifth, John Sullivan and Mrs. Addie O'Connell of the Twenty-sixth and Chris O'Brien and Mrs. R. E. Oldfather of the Twenty-eighth. Three members were absent.

A supplementary registration of voters will be held here on Thursday, with the 670 precinct polling places open from 8 a. m. to 5 p.
m. Qualified voters not already properly entered on the books, including those who have moved since registering and those who will reach the age of 21 by election day, Nov. 4, may enroll at this time. The Republican and Democratic City Committees are seeking to have as many additional voters as possible registered.

Democratic nominees have been invited to a meeting of the Jefferson Club at 4360 Washington boulevard tonight.

DISMISSES $100,000 SUIT OVER COMMITMENT TO ASYLUM

Former Clayton Station Agent Had Name, Judge Holden, and Dr.
Bills as Defendants.

Walter A. Melton, former railroad station agent at Clayton, yesterday dismissed the suit in which he sought $100,000 damages from County Probate Judge Hodgdon and Dr. M. A. Bills, an alienist, alleging he was wrongfully committed to the State Hospital for the Insane at Farmington.

Melton was placed in the asylum on Feb. 23 and is now out on parole. Judge Hodgdon has under-advised a motion to restore Melton's legal status of sanity. The suit was filed Aug. 4, the day preceding the county primary election.

IT was a long time ago . . . fifty years, in fact . . . when we first began helping debutantes make their slender allowances stretch and stretch! And we've been so successful that we just kept on doing it . . . so that these "poor little rich girls" depend on Sonnenfeld's to see them thru a whirling season of parties and dances and teas.

THEY like being called by name when they enter a department (for all our fifty years, we've never outgrown our friendly 'small store' ways). They like the bustling, jolly atmosphere of activity. They like our prices, consistently moderate and sensible. These society buds come regularly to Sonnenfeld's . . . with thousands of other young-minded women of all ages . . . because we know how to serve them financially and fashionably.

Business Is Picking

in St. Lo

The first nine business days in September have shown a day-by-day gain over the same period for a St. Louis retail dealer in retail instruments.

Merchandise of the character and in these increased sales is bought more for enjoyment more than for increased activity and gains in sales. The instruments is, therefore, evidence of a changed attitude on the part of the public.

Business Is Picking Up in St. Louis

The first nine business days in September brought a day-by-day gain over the same period of 1929 for a St. Louis retail dealer in radio and musical instruments.

Merchandise of the character and cost represented in these increased sales is bought through the desire for enjoyment more than for necessity. Increased activity and gains in sales of radio and musical instruments is, therefore, unmistakable evidence of a changed attitude on the part of the buying public.

U. S. RELEASES LIQUOR SHIP
Theft by Customs Officials at San Francisco Charged.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 15.—With a cargo of 1039 cases of returned liquor in its hold, the Canadian ship Ray Roberts was escorted to sea yesterday by three Coast Guard cutters.
Attorneys for the vessel and crew, seized on a smuggling charge in July, declared part of the ship's equipment and cargo was missing, among other things 11 cases of whiskey, engine room tools and a barometer. They said that a formal protest would be filed. Customs officials denied the alleged shortage. The Ray Roberts was released when Attorney-General Mitchell ruled terms of a treaty with Great Britain had been violated in seizing the vessel.

POLICE AT BOHEMIAN CLUB FIND NO GUESTS OR LIQUOR

For the first time since police began their campaign to close the Bohemian Night Club, Second and Commercial streets, a raiding squad visited the place early today and found no customers or liquor.

The proprietors, Albert Reynolds and Albert Warner, and one employee, waiting for customers, complained to the raiders of an erroneous impression that they were closed. No arrests were made.

Beer, whisky or gin were seized in four saloons and a confectionery. The places raided and persons arrested, according to police, were: Saloon, 1544 Hogan street, Raymond Spotsnaki; saloon, 125 Market street, Theodore Lutz; saloon, 4054 St. Ferdinand avenue, Daniel Reardon; saloon, 3616 Park avenue, Ernest Prager; confectionery, 3715 South Broadway, Joseph D. Oswald.

Marine Ends Life in Nicaragua.
By the Associated Press.
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 14.—United States Marine Sgt. John Damrow Jr., serving as a Lieutenant in the Nicaraguan National Guard, stationed at Matagalpa, has committed suicide. His body was sent to Corinto today. The Sergeant's home town was Sheboygan, Wis., and his next of kin was given as John Damrow Sr., his father. A note addressed to his commanding officer was found with the body. It simply stated that this was the end of everything and that he was sorry to cause trouble.

AMUNDSEN CAIRN FOUND BY FLYERS AT MAGNETIC POLE

Maj. L. T. Burwash, Canadian Explorer, Lands in Edmonton, Alta, After Trip Into Arctic.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 14.—Maj. L. T. Burwash, Canadian Government explorer, who has been searching the Arctic since June for traces of the 129 men, headed by Sir John Franklin, who perished in 1847, or 83 years ago, when seeking the Northwest Passage, reached this city yesterday by airplane from the North.
He brought evidence that Sir John and the crews of the Erebus and the Terror died on the shore of King William Land. Camp sites and graves discovered along the western shore of that island indicate the explorers attempted to beat their way back to civilization on foot and that, despairing of ever reaching "the outside," turned back toward their abandoned ships, dying before they reached them. No trace of the ships was found.

Maj. Burwash said he opened dozens of rock formations which appeared to be graves or cairns. Many times this labor was for nothing, because often frost action had piled up rocks in a manner to make them resemble man-made markers.
"We found certain evidence," Maj. Burwash said, "that the Franklin party had occupied camps sites which have not previously been connected with the expedition, but all details as to the relics must come from the Department of the Interior at Ottawa."
The relics were crated at Fort Smith and will go outside by water to waterways, where they will be shipped to Ottawa.
In addition to his flight to King William Island, Maj. Burwash and his pilot, W. E. Gilbert, mapped more than 2000 miles of coastline within the Arctic Circle, made an inspection of copper claims in the Far North and landed at the magnetic pole to check a possible shifting of the pole.
At the magnetic pole, some 1200 miles north of Winnipeg, they found evidence of a visit by Roald Amundsen. In the presence of H. Finney, an observer of the Department of the Interior, who accompanied them on that leg of the flight, a cairn found at the pole was opened and found to contain a photograph of Dr. Neumeyer of Germany, who financed the Amundsen expedition.

TWO MEN IN AUTO ROB COLLECTOR OF $72

Ernest J. Malone Victim of Holdup at Hawk and Clayton Avenues.

Summoned to an automobile by two men he thought were friends offering a ride, Ernest J. Malone, 3865 Lindell boulevard, a collector for the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., was robbed of $72 at Clayton and Hawk avenues last night.

William Valentine, 4755 Greer avenue, told police he was held up for $24 in front of 2924 Marcus avenue by a Negro who had followed him from Sixteenth street and Clark avenue.

When Marvin Fisher, 2305 Agnes street, stopped his automobile at Grand and Page boulevards, three armed Negroes crowded into the machine with him and two friends.
After forcing him to drive to Delmar boulevard just east of Grand, they took $23.55 from Fisher and fled.

George Moore, 5227 South Thirty-seventh street, asked police to find his automobile which, with a $65 watch, was taken from him
Saturday when two men held him up at Cliff Cave and Telegraph roads, St. Louis County. The robbers, Moore said, told him they would leave his automobile, in which he would find a pawn ticket for their aitch, on a St. Louis street.

The apartment of George Poerner, a jeweler, 3925 West Florisant avenue, was ransacked by burglars who took jewelry and silver valued at $250.

Think what the hottest summer in 29 years
did to your auto top!

Save it now with Steelcote Top Dressing

If you neglect it, rain will ruin the interior and rot will soon wreck the whole top.

This sizzling hot, dry Summer did as much damage to auto tops as two or three normal seasons. It has sucked every bit of life out of your top fabric—leaving it in just the brittle condition that brings damaging cracks and leaks.

Why take the chance of water stains on the upholstery, or worse still, a rotted top that costs $50 to $75 to rebuild—when you can make your auto top new again in 15 minutes with this famous rubber top coating.

Steelcote is the only top dressing with a pure para rubber base. That's why it's more weatherproof than any other coating, stays elastic after drying and keeps the top from cracking. The rubber in it gives a beautiful, glossy finish and never shows a brush mark.

MAYOR OF BOSTON IN FIGHT
IN BROADCASTING STATION

Said to Have Resented Radio Attack by Head of Democratic State Committee.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, and Frank J. Donahue, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, were involved in a fight in the broadcasting rooms of Station WNAC last night just after Donahue had delivered a bitter arraignment of Curley.

Daniel H. Coakley, Boston politician backing Joseph B. Ely for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said after the fight that his son, Gael, had been hit three times while protecting Donahue from Curley and his supporters and that he would ask for a warrant for Curley's arrest on an assault and battery charge.

Donahue and Curley both broadcast last night. Donahue accused Mayor Curley of violating the corrupt practices act, of telling John J. Raskob, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, that John F. Fitzgerald, the Mayor's candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, was a "clown" and of making a deal with the Republicans.

Witnesses at the studio said Curley cried, "He can't get away with that," as Donahue finished, and that the Mayor and his supporters then confronted Donahue and Ely's backers. A scuffle ensued. When the studio was cleared there was another encounter on the street in which Coakley charged, Curley again hit his son.

WIDOW OF E. R. THOMAS GETS JUDGMENT FOR $1,099,000

Former Actress Settles Her Claims for Dowry Rights Against Sportsman's Estate.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 16.—Lucy Cotton Thomas, former actress, widow of Edward Russell Thomas, New York and Palm Beach millionaire, won judgment for $1,099,000 here yesterday in full settlement of her claims for dowry rights against the estate of the former sportsman and owner of the New York Morning Telegraph.

Thomas died July 6, 1926, and Mrs. Thomas and Rufus Trimble were named executors. Mrs. Thomas later married Lytton Gray Ament, but divorced him in Nevada last May and was allowed to resume her former name. Recently Mrs. Thomas sued for a dowry interest in the estate and the proceedings were in the nature of a compromise settlement.

The court also approved a previous payment of $125,000 from the estate to Ann Augusta Thomas, another claimant, under Thomas' will in an arrangement by which Ann Thomas was to benefit from trust provisions.

MRS. LEILA BINGHAM LOSES
$15,000-A-YEAR AWARD

State Supreme Court Reverses Order Granting Separate Maintenance Allowance.

A mandate of the State Supreme Court, reversing a decree of Circuit Judge Pearcey by which Millard F. Bingham, vice president and general manager of the Samuel F. Bingham Sons Manufacturing Co. was ordered to pay his wife, Leila, $15,000 a year for separate maintenance, was received by the clerk of the Court of Domestic Relations yesterday. The original decree was handed down in 1926.

The case may be re-instituted by Mrs. Bingham, the mandate says, her bill being dismissed without prejudice. Failure of Mrs. Bingham to ask for the increased allowance before filing her suit was given as the ground for the reversal.

Mrs. Bingham, who lives at 2647 Flora place, testified at the trial that Bingham deserted her and their three children. The children and their ages at the time of the trial were Millard F. Bingham III, 21, Fred, 19, and Ruth, 11.

"Don't Your Feet Ever Get Tired?"

It was getting near closing time and finally came the turn of the last customer. She had been patiently waiting, watching the saleswoman as she smilingly attended her trade. "Don't your feet ever get tired standing behind your counter all day long?" she inquired. "I'm too busy to think of my feet," replied the saleswoman, "and anyway I wear Arch Controller Shoes." A great many of Vandervoort's salespeople forget their feet in ideal Arch Controller Shoes, which are sold at $5.00 and $6.00 in the Lower Priced Basement.

Wears Silk
Undies

BECAUSE the prices of silk are so little. If she does not want to pay real silk prices she buys rayon. In the lower-priced rayon underwear one must be careful to see that the garments are cut full and shapely and are made of the non-run rayon. They should be of as good quality and as well made as the group of combinations and bloomers we shall place on sale Wednesday at 45c. If they are as good they will probably cost more, as these are specially priced.

Doesn't self-respect tell you, "Refuse Substitutes"?

YOU know what you want when you go to the store.

Almost always, you know the advertised name.

You know what that name means, by past experience or because you have read the statements of the maker in newspapers and magazines.

What reason, then, has anyone to sell you something else—something offered as "just as good"—something with an unknown name and unknown quality?

Yet, if you do not watch, certain dealers will try it.

If you respect your own opinion, you will tell them gently and firmly, "No."

There is no advantage to you in buying an unknown article—even at a "bargain price"—because you have no way of judging its quality.

The dealer who attempts to sell such goods, does so simply because he hopes to gain an advantage in price or profit over other dealers who serve you with articles of standard quality, known to you by name.

Refuse substitutes; insist upon the advertised brand every time.

The publications in which you read about advertised articles insist upon knowing that all advertising statements are correct.

More than this, the manufacturer who seeks your good will through the printed pages knows that what he sells must give satisfaction—when he advertises, his whole hope of success is based upon winning and holding the good will of you and thousands of others like you.

PICTORIAL REVIEW believes that unknown substitutes rarely offer quality and purity as certain as you will find in known and advertised goods.

Because of this fact—because of a sincere desire to say a word for those stores which offer you articles of known quality—because PICTORIAL REVIEW wants to reach even more than the two and a half million families who are its regular readers—this frank discussion is published here.

VALUES TO RIVAL "ST. LOUIS DAY"

BALLOONISTS TO MARK END OF RECORD TRIP

Hawley and Post on Way to Quebec to Put Up Plaque.

Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, balloonists, who were given up for lost when their balloon landed in the wilderness near Lake Tschicoma, Quebec, on a flight from St. Louis in the Gordon Bennett race two decades ago, are on the way to the scene of the landing to erect a bronze plaque in commemoration of the flight.

Guided by Joseph Simard and Joseph Peinaut, trappers, who brought them out of the wilderness, Hawley and Post will travel by canoe on Lake Tschicoma and up the Peribonka River to the spot north of Lac de Banc au Sable, where their balloon, America II, landed, after a flight of 1175 miles to establish an American distance record, which still stands.

The memorial plaque bears the following inscription:

"America II. Winner Gordon Bennett International Balloon Race. Pilot, Alan R. Hawley, Aide, Augustus Post. St. Louis, Oct. 17, 1910, 8:45 p. m. Lake Tschicoma, Oct. 19, 1910, 2:45 p. m. 1175 miles. American distance record. Twentieth anniversary 1930."

Following their departure from St. Louis, Hawley and Post were not heard from for two weeks, when word was received that Simard and Peinaut had guided them to a trading post. The balloonists suffered hardships in the wilderness and were weak from lack of food when they stumbled onto the trappers' camp. Journeying by canoe and on foot, they reached the village of Riviere a L'Ours, where word of their safety was sent out. A reward of $10,000 had been raised in St. Louis to stimulate the search. The America II was taken out of the wilderness by sled later.

On their present journey the balloonists will wear the heavy coats and caps they wore during their memorable flight. One of their guides wrote that he lost a hand in an accident several years ago, but insisted on making the trip, declaring he has learned to paddle a canoe with one hand. Hawley and Post, who live in New York, visited St. Louis a year ago as guests of Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, dean of aviation enthusiasts, who directed the start of their flight.

$250,000 Home for Irving Berlin. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Irving Berlin, song writer, yesterday bought two lots on East Ninety-third street and will demolish an old five-story flat and erect on the site a $250,000 fireproof dwelling, it is announced. Mrs. Berlin, the former Ellen Mackay, will hold title to the new house, which will rise five and a half stories, with a unique penthouse studio at the top. The property is at the northeast edge of Carnegie Hall.

HOOVER'S SON RECUPERATING AT RAPIDAN RIVER CAMP

Slight Illness Causes Herbert Jr. to Give Up Aviation Post Temporarily.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Herbert Hoover Jr. is recuperating from a slight illness at the President's camp on the Rapidan River in Virginia, on leave of absence from the Western Air Express.

The President's son plans to absent himself from his duties as radio technical adviser for the aviation company for two or three months, but expects to spend only a few days at the Rapidan camp now. He will return to the White House to spend some time with his parents.

The illness of young Hoover was said at the White House to have been a minor affair of no serious consequences.

DR. SHARPE HAS 33 MEN AT WORK; BILLIKENS MAY LOSE ALEXANDER

With a squad of 32, one of the largest in recent years, reporting on the first day, football practice at Washington University was inaugurated yesterday with Head Coach Al Sharpe and Assistant Coach Gale Bullman, Johnny Davis and J. C. Thomas aiding in the work.

While the 1930 squad, numerically is one of the best in years, it is one of the material has yet to be determined. "Red Ted" Sussman, the backfield sparkplug, was absent from the first workout as was Gus Stutz, the solid lineman.

Both are expected to return today. Capt. George Coover, end, Scott, Hornsby, back and Bob Watson, lineman, were a trio of varsity men out yesterday. Bert Friedman again is out for a wing position and Cliff Wheeler, and Jim Seest, tackle candidates, also were in play.

Last year's freshman squad made up a large part of the squad. The youngsters reporting were: Manfred Duerkbo, William Connett, Sam Hershberger, Charley Galloway, Eric Alt, Max Tyrell, "Red" Hardin, "White" Wolf, Vic Landgreen, Vladimir Amassoff, Harvey Miller, L. Hall, Fred Guth, Jim Jones, G. Clark, Charles Cuntz, Clarence Skinner, like Vandover, Robert Higgins, J. Marco, Bill Dunder, and the quartet will be back around the end of the week.

The heaviest man is Charley Galloway, who weighs well over 210. Two practices are scheduled daily at 9:30 and 2 o'clock. It is hardly likely there will be any change in this week, practice in fundamentals being in order for the first few days.

The Bears' first game will be with Illinois College on the night of Sept. 20.

Billikens Sent Through A Two-Hour Drill. Coach Chiles Walsh did not let the weather interfere with the football practice of the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday afternoon but sent his squad through a two-hour drill on fundamentals while the rain did its best to make the players uncomfortable. Line coach Maxwell gave the guards and tackles blocking practice and helped Walsh direct a dummy scrimmage that lasted most of the afternoon.

Walsh said after practice that he was still uncertain whether Bill Alexander, captain and center of last year's freshman team would return to school this fall. Alexander, a Californian is at present staying in St. Louis but an illness of the past summer may keep him out of the game. This would leave Cecil Muellerleile, 190-pound varsity substitute, as the only man in line for a regular job at the pivot.

As yet Muellerleile is an unknown quantity and although he won a letter last season, he was on the sidelines most of the season because of injuries. The two other center candidates are MacLeod and Kersness, a pair of redheads that substituted for Alexander on the freshman team last season.

In the dummy scrimmage the Billikens showed that they have plenty to learn before they play their first game a week from Friday night. Walsh faces a task in lining up his backfield for although he has several experienced men and a group of promising sophomores, it will be some time before he will be able to pick a regular combination. Walsh had Bob McCool paired with Captain "Snakes" Gazelle at the halves for most of the scrimmage. McCool, a promising sophomore last year broke his arm in mid-season and was forced to quit the squad. He showed up well during the spring practice of the Bills and may be drafted for a regular place at left half. He is a clever passer and good in open field running. Bill Kalinsky, who always played well when he was given a chance at quarterback, is one of the best looking prospects on the Billiken field. Bill is a smaller edition of Muellerleile and is one of the hardest driving and working backs on the field.

The Bills may be given another scrimmage this afternoon. The training practice will be limited to a blackboard lecture.

Belanger Beats Sekyra. TORONTO, Sept. 16.—In his first appearance since he fractured his hand several weeks ago, Charlie Belanger, Canadian light heavyweight, was awarded a 10-round decision over Joe Sekyra of Dayton, O. here last night.

C. B. C. APPEARS REAL CONTENDER FOR PREP TITLE

With the first game only 10 days away, the football squad at Soldan High has been working out but lightly since the call for new men was issued over a week ago by the West Enders' new coach, Raymond Postler. Scrimmage will begin in earnest as soon as permission is obtained to use the Stadium, as the small field at Soldan prevents such practice.

Four lettermen were among the candidates answering the call, and although the forming of the eleven has been slow, several newcomers have already indicated they will make a serious bid for the seven open berths.

In the line, the two wings are settled with Howard Butts and Linacott Hall returning to assume those posts. Coleman Fenwick was a reserve last year and will probably act in that capacity this season. At tackle, John Valinko is back, and with Hall will co-captain the team. Ed Baker, a reserve last year, and Harry Moore, are working for the other tackle.

Bill Van Cleave is a second stringer who is bidding for a tackle or guard berth. Sol Elson, Harry Faintick, Oscar Machans and Harry Abrams are the best looking of the new guard candidates.

At center, Harold Jacobs, a reserve from last year, is making good showing, although Willard Midget and Leslie Post are also trying for the berth.

Backfield material is abundant and the quartet will be back around the end of the week. Coach Jimmie Phelan, taking Bagshaw's place at the University of Washington. The addition of Spears and Phelan, two of the best coaches of the Middle West to the coaching personnel of the coast, has added much to the interest in this conference and it may be said that with their advent the coast conference can now claim at least as high class coaching talent as any other section of the country. Both these coaches will take over some very good material developed by the men they are replacing, and they should turn out strong teams in this, their first year on the coast.

Another high-class coach from the Middle West has been lured to the coast by Loyola University, Los Angeles where Tom Lieb, who handled Notre Dame 20 successful years, will take over.

Will Miss Coole. The West Enders are minus the services of the Coach, Coach Jimmy and Fullback Dave, and Polster takes the elder Coole's place as director of the coach. He is assisted by Coach Fred C. McEwen, who was Coole's aid for seven years.

The schedule opens Friday, Sept. 26, when McBride calls for a non-league game. Two more practice games follow before the defending champions meet Beaumont in the opening of the league card.

The schedule follows: Sept. 26—McBride at Soldan. Oct. 3—Soldan vs. High at Soldan. Oct. 10—Soldan vs. Beaumont at Beaumont. Oct. 17—Soldan vs. Everett at Everett. Oct. 24—Soldan vs. Everett at Everett. Oct. 31—Open.

Nov. 7—Soldan vs. Central at Stadium. Nov. 14—Soldan vs. Central at Stadium. Nov. 21—Soldan vs. Everett at Everett. Nov. 28—Soldan vs. Everett at Everett.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Jem, a 4-year-old son of Prior Rockbush, owned by Mrs. Emil Demark of Chicago, has hoisted himself from the selling plate class to the handicap division by five straight victories.

Jem was claimed by Mrs. Demark from C. W. Gyle after he had won three straight over indifferent fields at Hawthorne. Yesterday at Lincoln Fields he easily defeated a field that included Rolled Stockings, Typhoon and Jean La Fille, in a mile and a sixteenth race.

ARSINAL IS HELD TO TIE IN SOCCER GAME. By the Associated Press. LONDON, Sept. 16.—Results of the football matches played in England yesterday follow: Premier League. First Division: Aston Villa 2, Grimsby Town 0. Blackburn Rovers 1, Manchester City 1. Chelsea 0, Sheffield Wednesday 0. Tottenham Hotspur 0, Preston North End 0. Second Division: Brighton & Hove 0, Swindon Town 0. Cardiff City 1, Wolverhampton Wanderers 1. Third Division: Southern Section: Southampton 1, Gillingham 1. Northern Section: Burnley 1, Darlington 1. Lincoln City 0, Nelson 0. Rochdale 0, Barrow 0. Stockport County 0, Carlisle United 0.

With 10 lettermen and numerous squad members of last season back in harness, and plenty of big and willing newcomers also on hand, there seems to be a firm foundation for the "pennant hopes" which are being felt this fall at Christian Brothers College. About 50 men now compose the squad with which Coach Jack O'Reilly has been working during the past week, and if last night's lengthy scrimmage session is any indication of the Brothers can do, there should be a new champion at the top of the Prep League standing in November.

The C. B. C. football players have been plodding along in the second division for the past few years, largely because of the small size and inexperience. Last season O'Reilly found sufficient big men to make a team, but they were green, and for the most part, now, after a year of play and development, these same men seem primed for nothing less than a league title.

In Comparison. A fair idea of the Brothers' chances can be had by comparing the C. B. C. squad with other conference outfits. Experienced men are at a premium this season; the few other league schools have a total of eight lettermen back in uniform, while C. B. C. has 10. It is probable that the other schools will have lines and backfields of average weight and height; O'Reilly's line will tip the scales at about 170 pounds, with the backs weighing in at 155.

For every position except center and one of the ends, O'Reilly has a letterman. His first string backfield will be composed of Bob McDonald, quarter; Bob Fuchs and Russ Braudrick, halves; and Lou McHenry, fullback. At center, John Bardenheiser, a squadman of 1929, seems the best of Gould's old place, while Daugherty and Kilgus are battling for the end post vacated by Wannong.

Kelly, letterman, is back at right end, with Busch doing well as his understudy. Right tackle appears to be a fight between Lunt and Sandweg, both numeral winners last year. Feeney, another letterman, has left tackle clinched, with Joe Bardenheiser performing well also. Two more veterans, Dick Gunther and Braunschwig, will take care of the guards, while Carl Gunther and Schmidt, both members of the 1929 squad, will be ready to fill in.

A Squad of 33. O'Reilly plans to cut his squad to 23 men, and to use two complete teams in his various games. He has a sufficient number of experienced linemen to do this easily, and the second string backfield, at present, would probably be drawn up with Bill Fuchs at quarter, Flynn and Concannon at the halves and Langston or Spalding at fullback.

If the schedule could be played on paper, the Brothers would win in a walk. Since the rules call for the holding of games on a gridiron, however, the "title-thirsty" C. B. C. followers await their team's first test, which will come at the hands of Cleveland High on Sept. 27.

The schedule: Sept. 27—Cleveland at C. B. C. Oct. 4—C. B. C. at McKinley. Oct. 11—C. B. C. at Western M. A. Oct. 18—C. B. C. at McKinley. Oct. 25—C. B. C. at St. Louis U. High. Nov. 1—C. B. # M'SPADEN, KANSAS CITY GOLF PRO, TURNS IN A 67 AT SUNSET HILLS

ST. LOUIS OPEN ENTRANT PLAYS TOURNEY LINKS FIVE UNDER PAR

By W. J. McGoogan.

St. Louis amateur and professional golfers will have an opportunity today to renew their acquaintance with Sunset Hill Country Club's golf course in preparation for the $10,000 open tournament which opens Friday. It will be the only chance the local amateurs other than Sunset members will have to play over the course before the event starts.

There are some 60 local players entered and none of them is favored to finish high up in the money. In fact, John Manion, Sunset professional, who, one might think, might be conceded a good chance of winning the tournament himself, wagered $100 even money with Ben Richter, Triple A professional, that there would not be a St. Louis man, either professional or amateur, finish in the first 15.

McSpaden Plays Fine Round. Just how difficult it will be to finish well up was illustrated yesterday when Harold McSpaden, 22-year-old professional of the Victory Hills Golf Club, a public course at Kansas City, Kan., went around in the afternoon in 67, five strokes under par, after playing the 13 holes in the morning in 72, even par. And McSpaden is quoted as at 20 to 1 in a book arranged by a local bookmaker.

McSpaden turned the first nine holes in an even 30 strokes, under par, winding up the nine with four consecutive birdies, including a duc on the par 3, 220-yard sixth hole. He got another birdie on the tenth, missed a rather difficult putt for a birdie on No. 11, and got his sixth birdie in seven holes on the twelfth when he drove to within a few feet of the 265-yard green, rolled an approach up to within five feet of the hole and sank the putt.

At this point in McSpaden's game it began to pour rain and he finished the last six holes in a steady downpour. After getting a par three on the thirteenth he tried to shave the trees on the right of the fourteenth fairway too closely and put his first ball out of bounds. His next was right down the middle, he was on the green with his next but two putts for a five to go over par for the first, and the last, time in the round.

Under Par, Yet Five Down. McSpaden's score was the best turned in by the group of local professionals and the few out-of-town players who practiced yesterday. He was playing in a foursome which included Bill Schwartz, Midland Valley professional, who remarked ruefully after the twelfth hole that he was one under par but still five down to McSpaden.

Neal McIntyre, Indianapolis professional, who was connected with the St. Louis Country Club a number of years ago, arrived yesterday, but contented himself with trying out his shots and playing only a few holes.

John Bredemus, San Antonio; W. E. Keller and Frank Hayes, Chicago; Jack Grout, Fort Worth, Tex.; John Rusnak, Macomb, Ill., and Jack Heywood, Rushville, Ill., were among the professionals who reported.

Many of the other out-of-town players are expected today, but the group of Eastern stars, including Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell, Walter Hagen, together with Tommy Armour, new professional champion, Detroit, are not looked for until Thursday, as they are playing in a tournament at Glens Falls, N. Y., which does not conclude until tonight.

Caddy Problem Solved. Dr. Jean Mason, Midland Valley Country Club, chairman of the Caddy Committee, spent yesterday wrestling with the problem of providing bag carriers for the players, and after a 10-hour day declared that he had provided a caddy for each contestant, to the satisfaction of the boys, at least.

The course yesterday showed the effects of the rainfall and was slowed up considerably to what it was last week. At No. 10, which the boys were playing last week with a drive and a mashie to cover the 500 yards, they were whaling at it yesterday with a driver and a brassie and few of them getting home, although McSpaden negotiated the distance with a drive and a No. 4 iron shot. No. 16, another favorite birdie shot, was hard to reach with two wood shots. It is 475 yards long and a par 5.

It has not been decided as yet whether the penalty for out of bounds will be loss of stroke and distance or distance only, but with the numerous opportunities presented at Sunset for going out of bounds if a penalty of two strokes is exacted for such a slip it will add materially to the scores. The decision is to be left to Albert W. Gates, business representative of the Professional Golfers' Association, who is due here tomorrow.

See where the Cubs and Robins have started taking applications for series seats. There's no law against it.

In the meantime the St. Louis fans are warming up their fountain pens for a little check writing in case it becomes necessary to apply for reservations.

Detroit Turns Triple Play to Win Over Stars
A triple play, cutting short a rally by the St. Louis Stars, enabled the Detroit team to even the series for the Negro world championship, by winning the second game at Stars Park last night, 11 to 7.

With one run over in the eighth inning, and the bases filled, Robertson, third sacker for Detroit, made a brilliant catch of B. Russell's drive. He stopped on third to double Matlock and then threw to Dunne at second in time to retire Bell to complete the triple killing.

The third game of the series will be played tonight at 8 o'clock. The box score:

Doeg's Fine Service and Net Play Carried Him to National Title—Tilden

By William T. Tilden II.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—John Doeg of California won the American singles championship in a tournament that was featured by the most remarkable series of upsets known in tennis history. Doeg beat Frank Shields in the final round in four bitterly fought sets. The final was a battle of two superlative forces and it was the greater effectiveness of Doeg's delivery that spelled the ultimate victory. The young Californian's success brings back to the top a game of the type of his great fellow Californian, Maurice E. McLoughlin. One can but admire the courage and determination that carried Doeg to his goal.

No one will begrudge him his victory nor will it in any way dim its lustre to point out that the new champion is not a model of stroke production for, in fighting spirit and in bulldog determination never to build pressure finally over coming even the marvelous shots of Williams who was as always alternately good and bad.

The great public interest in the rise of young stars was manifest in very large daily attendance culminating in a tremendous gallery for the final between Doeg and Shields. All in all, the 1930 championship will live as one of the most interesting on record. (Copyright, 1930.)

TILDEN.
The brilliant courage and sound tactics Doeg showed against me in the semifinal matches earned him the reward in victory. No matter how greatly I threatened to break that devastating service, Doeg at the critical moment could produce the necessary shot to snuff out the vital break. I have seldom seen Doeg as steady off the ground as he was against me in the critical moments of the first and fourth set. He fully deserved to win and, while I admit to a bitter disappointment in not hanging up a new record of championships, I have great admiration and no regrets at Doeg's splendid victory.

Shields Has Crushing Attack.
Frank Shields by his crushing attack that swamped Sydney Wood in the semifinals played one of the best matches of his life. Wood was more uncertain off the ground than usual and, in my opinion, did not quite do himself justice. I would consider Shields' victory verging on an upset. If Wood had had his usual control of his passing shots, the result might have been different, but Shields was quick to sense the situation and by carrying the attack to Wood forced the tow-headed youngster into errors repeatedly.

The semifinals were distinctly a triumph for youth, for both finalist and one of the losers were under 22. The championships have certainly complicated the Davis Cup picture for next year and scrambled the 1930 ranking into a pretty mess.

I have never known a tournament with so many startling upsets. The first day saw the stunning surprise of Borotra's defeat by Berkeley Bell. Bell deserves great credit for his fighting spirit in staying with a match which no one gave him a chance to win. However, Borotra was not Borotra. The will to win was missing. His service and overhead failed him repeatedly while even his volleying was uncertain. One more proof that no player can come off a beat and produce his game within several weeks of a sea voyage. It was a great loss to the tournament to lose the popular French star.

Lott Is Second Victim.
George Lott Jr. was the second victim. He fell to R. H. Williams II, the famous veteran. It was a case of the great brilliancy of Williams finally breaking through the somewhat careless defense of a slightly over tensed Lott. Only great and continued pressure would have slackened Williams' attack that day and the story of defense was not in Lott's mental outlook on that day. The Chicago youngster seemed half-hearted and with this uncertainty of purpose he was always in danger. At critical moments Williams would produce those sensational winners only he can hit. So Lott finally broke under this strain. G. Lottien Rogers, the great Irishman, finally showed America why he has beaten so many good players in Europe, but hitting a streak of his good tennis and eliminating Ellsworth Vines in five sets to nothing and four and two in the third. Rogers' steadiness and his ability to lead Vines into the error of overhitting was the secret of his success.

Frank Shields came into the limelight by his defeat of Wilmer Allison in five sets. This match, thrilling in its terrific speed, was not one that showed much in tennis tactics. Allison was consistently wild and seemed to lack confidence. Shields was brilliant but at times reverberantly brilliant. If Allison had used more quiet and less wild hitting he would have won.

Sydney Woods' clever use of mixed speed and spin featured his defeat of Junior Conn in four sets. The Kansas City boy played one magnificent set in which he hit Wood off the court but in the other three the tow-headed New Yorker was easily master, due to

Beaumont High Plays Kirkwood Next Saturday

Beaumont High School has elected to open football activity among the city schools and will start things moving when the grid team of Kirkwood calls at the North Siders' field, Saturday. The contest will also mark the beginning of play among the county outfit, as the proposed Rankin-Riteneur game, carded for Friday, is still pending.

Burns Franklin has been drilling his boys since early last week and the eleven is rapidly getting in shape. The Beaumont candidates have eight lettermen among them and the whole squad will average around 170 pounds.

The North Siders' lineup is not certain as yet, but it is probable that the backfield will contain Herb Bohringer, Bob Kalbitz, John Kyles and Tom Wright. The line will weigh in heavy with the Stimpson brothers, Lloyd and Ralph, resuming the tackles, and Harry Bach and Reinhardt Schults at the guard posts.

Both wings and center are not filled as yet, but those positions will probably be filled from three prospects, Margerio, Taylor and Rau.

The Kirkwood outfit will not be lacking in weight and Coach Ernie

'John the Barber,' Once Dempsey's Manager, Is Dead

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—John the barber, boxer, fight promoter and one of Broadway's best-known figures for three decades, is dead. Death resulted from an infected finger. He was 57 years old.

His real name was John J. Riesler and one of his claims to fame was that he discovered Jack Dempsey.

"I bought Dempsey his first suit of clothes," John was quoted as saying. "He didn't weigh 160 pounds then. His toes were sticking out of his shoes. I bought him everything from underwear to collar buttons, and what did he do? He ran out on me."

Riesler eventually sued Dempsey for breach of contract and after prolonged litigation the case was settled out of court.

John the barber began as a boxer himself, but later turned promoter. Abe Attell was one of his proteges.

He was one of the principal witnesses at the trial of Police Lieutenant Charles A. Becker and four gunmen for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, who was slain in Forty-third street July 16, 1912. John was one of the first to reach the scene of the shooting and recognized one of the gunmen.

BIG SIX FOOTBALL

MANHATTAN, Kan.—Moderately heavy scrimmage underway in the Kansas Aggie camp yesterday. Several line men reported they had lost five to ten pounds since week's beginning last week. More than 100 candidates appeared for the initial freshman workout.

LAWRENCE, Kan.—Promising heavy scrimmage for the second workout of the week. Coach H. W. ("Bill") Hargis sent his ends and tackles through a light scrimmage yesterday. J. Bausch, Cox, Pate and Fisher were selected for the backfield on one eleven, and several Madison, Schaack and Grifey on the other.

AMES, Ia.—The showing of several sophomores, who are appearing at the two-day practice at Iowa State, has brightened Coach Workman's prospects considerably. Kuback, a letterman of two years ago, was forced to return home and doubt was expressed that he would be able to return.

LINCOLN, Neb.—The University of Nebraska Corn Huskers spent the greater part of the day's session in passing drill and passing defense with Coach Dana, giving special attention to development of punters. Freshmen practice opened with 90 candidates reporting.

LAW, MILWAUKEE BOWLER, BANNED FROM ORGANIZED LEAGUE ROLLING

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 14.—Wilson and Charlie Daw, members of the famous Nelson-Mitchell team of 1923, A. B. C. champions, also title winners in the doubles, have been barred from participation in bowling for the coming season due to having pawned the medals won in the Milwaukee tournament.

The ban against Daw and Wilson will be in force until the next meeting of the A. B. C. at Buffalo, March, 1931, unless a special executive session is held.

Secretary A. L. Langtry of the A. B. C. had nothing to say with the exception that league secretaries would see to it that neither Wilson nor Daw be allowed to roll in local league wheels until their cases have been settled with the national organization.

Both Daw and Wilson entered a bowling lawsuit in 1923 when they filed suit against the crack Nelson-Mitchell lineup which scored 2119 for a new record. On the night of filing the Nelson-Mitchells were facing neck and neck with the famous Chapman Dairy five of Indianapolis. The Hoosier quint broke the record two minutes ahead of the Milwaukee aggregation, scoring 2116, only to have it belatedly scored as 2115 by M. Somers, P. Wilson, C. Daw and D. Clark. The pair in the last frame to nose them out.

To cap it all, Wilson and Daw lost another week's record the following day, the pair scoring 1358 in the doubles, while Daw landed 114 to lead the all-events, but was later beaten out by the returned Billy Knex of Philadelphia.

The medals won in this meet are the cause of the rampus in A. B. C. circles, the bowlers having previously been warned by the national body that drastic action was to be taken if the amateurs were not reformed. The pair had sufficient time to make their amends with the A. B. C. but chose to ignore the warnings, and will now have to suffer the consequences.

The medals involving the two players were found in a pawn shop on Wells street, were redeemed by the A. B. C., and it is now up to Wilson and Daw to clear themselves, although it will be some time before they can perform with local leagues and tournaments.

BIG SIX FOOTBALL

MANHATTAN, Kan.—Moderately heavy scrimmage suffered in the week's football practice at the Kansas Aggie camp yesterday. Several linemen reported they had lost five to ten pounds since work began last week. More than 100 candidates appeared for the initial freshman workout.

LAWRENCE, Kan.—Promising heavy scrimmage for the second workout of the week. Coach H. W. ("Bill") Hargis sent his ends and tackles through a light scrimmage yesterday. J. Bausch, Cox, Pace and Fisher were selected for the backfield on one eleven, and Beach, Madison, Schaake and Griffey on the other.

AMES, Ia.—The showing of several sophomores, who are appearing at the two-day practices at Iowa State, has brightened Coach Kuback's prospects considerably. Kuback, a letterman of two years ago, was forced to return home and doubt was expressed that he would be able to return.

LINCOLN, Neb.—The University of Nebraska Corn Huskers, spent the greater part of the day's session in passing drill and passing defense with Coach Dana Bible giving special attention to development of punters. Freshman practice opened with 90 candidates reporting.

DAW, MILWAUKEE BOWLER, BANNED FROM ORGANIZED LEAGUE ROLLING

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 15.—The Wilson and Charlie Daw, members of the famous Nelson-Mitchell team of 1923, A. B. C. champions, also title winners in the doubles, have been barred from participation in bowling for the coming season, due to having pawned the medals won in the Milwaukee tournament.

The ban against Daw and Wilson will be in force until the next meeting of the A. B. C. at Buffalo, N. Y., in March, 1931, unless a special executive session is held.

Secretary A. L. Langtry of the A. B. C. had nothing to say with the exception that he said neither Wilson nor Daw would be allowed to roll in local leagues until their cases have been settled with the national organization.

Both Daw and Wilson entered the bowling tournament in 1929 when they won the crack Nelson-Mitchell trophy which scored $149 for a new record. On the night of rolling the Nelson-Mitchells were going neck and neck with the famous Claman Day Five of Indianapolis, who finished quint breakers at the record two minutes ahead of the Milwaukee aggregation, scoring 1116, only to have it bettered by G. Keegan, M. Somers, F. Wilson, C. Daw and D. Clark, who rolled in the last frame to nose out the record.

To cap it all, Wilson and Daw set another world's record the following day, the pair scoring 1358 in the doubles, while Daw landed 314 to lead the all-events, but was later beaten out by the renowned Billy Knox of Philadelphia.

The medals won in this meet are the cause of the rumpus in A. B. C. circles, the bowlers having previously been warned by the national body that drastic action was to be taken if the emblems were not redeemed. The pair had sufficient time to make their amends with the A. B. C., but chose to ignore the warnings, and will now have to suffer the consequences.

The medals involving the two bowlers were found in a pawn shop on Wells street, were redeemed by the A. B. C. and it is now up to Wilson and Daw to clear themselves, although it will be some time before they can perform with real leagues and tournaments.

Kattner had 431 and Leicht 428. Ray Holmes shot games of 237, 244 and 198 to lead the Wooster. The Flint won two from the Witters while the Jule Schmitts and Sun-Clips won the odd games from the C. C. Petersons and Hollings respectively. The 600 scores were: Greenek 431, W. Glaub 428, John 421, Hahn 402, Ludwig 360 and Sherwood 331.

Wegner's 313 was high in the Newspaper league at Peterson's last night. Wegner had a high game of 216 and the 49th States won the odd game from the Sport Specials. Reinhardt led the losers with 256. The team leaders were: Tebeus 535, Odell 525, Stoddard 517, Rastberger 515, Rice 504 and Schwarz 518.

SIX VETERANS IN FIRST PRACTICE OF PURDUE TEAM

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Jimmy Phelan has left Noble Kiser with the huge job of building a team to keep the Big Ten football championship at Purdue—but with the assignment he left a handsome horde of material.

After several years of successful scheming, Phelan last year gave the Old Gold and Black its first gridiron title in Western Conference history. Then he left Purdue for the University of Washington. Kiser, Phelan's successor, yesterday had his first look at his material and saw a center, two guards, a tackle and two backs, from Phelan's 1929 champions.

Lewis Miller, regular center last season, and George Stearns and Horace Butner, who played on each side of him, are back along with George Van Bibber, last year's right tackle.

Ralph Welch and Glen Harmon are gone from the backfield, but Alex Yungvich, somewhat of a sophomore fullback, and Jack

SIX VETERANS IN FIRST PRACTICE OF PURDUE TEAM

White, the quarterback, will furnish the framework for the attacking forces. All told, Kiser had 28 men out for the first vigorous drills yesterday.

Opposing drills were uniformly strenuous in other camps. Coach Amos Alena Shug had 48 men on the field at the University of Chicago, most of them were new to the team, but Coach Shug was a promoter and confident, previously mentioned tonight, will be available this season.

Dick Hensley stressed blocking and tackling at Northwestern's initial practice and set about to find a quarterback to take the place of Earl Roper, Northwestern's best player, who has decided to leave for the University of Illinois.

Harold Lusk, Northwestern's best player, who has decided to leave for the University of Illinois, was expected to have completely recovered from the injury which kept him out of all but a few minutes of the 1929 and 1930 campaigns.

Michigan's 75 candidates were expected to meet tomorrow at Ann Arbor, but Coach Harry Kipke also devoted time to experimenting with possibilities of changing veteran backs into linemen. At Illinois, Bob Zuppke spent most of the time watching the line candidates, his great need.

Indiana hoped to meet through a pair of drills in the rain. Pat Page, who was the usual center of giving assignments and orders for the first day.

ROY STEELE ON DUSEK WILL MEET CLINTOCK AT COLLEGEUM, SEPT. 24

Either Roy Steele, Seattle heavyweight, or Rudy Dusek of Memphis may be stayed today to wrestle with Jim Clintock, Okla. State, in the main event of the first indoor wrestling program of the season at the Collegeum Wednesday night, Sept. 24.

Leon Griffin, matchmaker, says that Steele, whom he originally planned to pair with Clintock for a return bout, has declined the offer because of another engagement. Clintock and Steele wrestled 45 minutes to a draw in their previous local engagement. In other bouts, Steele defeated Benny Natanson, Rockford, 129, in four rounds, and Alvin Cincola, Milwaukee, 146, won from Johnny Bush, St. Louis, 146, in four rounds.

Mandell Defeats O'Neill in First 'Come-Back' Bout

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 15.—Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion, won the decision over Mickey O'Neill, Milwaukee, in a 10-round fight at the fair grounds here last night. Mandell weighed 142½ and O'Neill 132.

It was Mandell's first appearance in the ring since he lost his title to Al Singer in New York, O'Neill, former Marquette University boxing instructor, won but one round. While Mandell was heavier than in any of his previous fights, his old-time technique was evident.

In the preliminaries, Eddie Black, Milwaukee, 124½, won a technical knockout over George Stevens, Chicago, 134½. In the fourth round of their scheduled six-round fight, Jimmy Russell, Chicago, 123½, defeated Benny Natanson, Rockford, 129, in four rounds, and Alvin Cincola, Milwaukee, 146, won from Johnny Bush, St. Louis, 146, in four rounds.

MARLEY AND SAGER TO MEET IN AMATEUR BOUT

Announcement was made last night by Harry McCarthy, matchmaker for the Tower Athletic Club, that he had signed Steve Marley, hard-punching Senator A. C. welterweight, and Kid Sager, another local brawler, for one of the four special bouts on Friday night's amateur boxing card at Rodeberg Hall.

In the main match, which is also between welterweights, Farrell Moore, Mississippi Valley welterweight champion, takes on Elmer Pokinghorne, Western A. A. U. title-holder. Pokinghorne, who was stopped by Moore in the last meeting, is training seriously and feels confident that he will reverse the decision in the coming go. Until the deciding blow was landed, Pokinghorne held a slight shade over his foe. Since then the Western A. A. U. fighter has turned in several victories.

Another welterweight match will be fought by Johnny Bush, one of the Tower A. C. fighters, and Bill Finnegan, shift South Broadway A. C. boxer. Both Bush and Finnegan have been winning with great regularity and it is a foregone conclusion that it is a foregone conclusion as to who will be the winner.

Carl Knechtler, rugged South Broadway A. C. fighter, is working out diligently in preparation for his bout with Joe Brendel, who falls from Troy, Ill.

Veteran Material Is Plentiful on Rolla Grid Squad

ROLLA, Mo., Sept. 15.—With but one exception, Coach Grant has been successful in filling every available date on which the Rolla Miners will be able to do battle on the gridiron. Three of the games in the unusually hard schedule will be played under flood lights. It is probable that the open date, Oct. 24, will be used for a game between the Miners and the Central College Eagles.

Coach Grant will have much experienced material from which to pick a variety eleven for the ensuing games. Sixty-five men have checked out suits and are reporting regularly for workouts each evening. Of this bunch of men 16 are letter men from last season's squad who will play another season for the Miners. A letter man will be available for every position on the team with an abundance of new material as reserve strength.

Thornton, line plunging star in the past season, will probably be shifted from quarterback to a berth at one of the halfbacks. E. Towse, who acted as part-time field general for the Missouri Valley squad last fall, and Williams, who won his "M" at that position last year are fully capable of carrying for that position in any game. Miller and McDonald, both new men to the squad, are showing much promise at the halfback positions.

The letter men who are back: Backfield—Schiff, (Cap.), Hassler, Thornton, Hyman, Williams, and Kelly; ends—Malik, Ledford, and Runder; Tackles—Starn, Yarker, Koch and Gibson; Guards—DeFoe and Andrea and Tomlinson at center.

The following is the season's schedule: Oct. 11—Drury College at Rolla; Oct. 17—Missouri Valley College at Marshall; Oct. 21—St. Louis University at St. Louis; Oct. 24—Central College at Pella, Ia.; Oct. 28—Chicago Business College at Chicago.

HUNT GAINS VICTORY IN BOUT WITH RUSKO

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 15.—The jabbing left hand of Babe Hunt, Oklahoma's towering heavyweight, has triumphed over the two-fisted attack of Johnny Rusko, Cleveland boxer boy.

Hunt piled up a commanding lead in the opening rounds of a 10-rounder last night and several times had his opponent apparently groggy, but was unable to administer a knockout. The Oklahoman was credited with a wide margin in at least five rounds.

The durable boxer boy surprised the fans and perhaps his opponent with a comeback which gave him the tenth round. Hunt weighed 193; Rusko 193.

MAYOR RUTH DEFENDS CITY-COUNTY MERGER

University City Executive Speaks at Dinner of Committee of 1000.

Mayor Ruth of University City told the Citizens Metropolitan Committee of 1000, at dinner at the Riquet Club Monday that St. Louis County people were asking for help to solve their governmental problems in a practical way in asking for adoption of the plan for consolidation of the city and county as Greater St. Louis.

The committee is campaigning for the enabling constitutional amendment, which is to be voted on by Missouri at the election on Nov. 4 as proposition No. 5 on the ballot. Mayor Ruth is chairman of the county unit. He declared the consolidation would offer great benefits to the entire community and said: "Under it the health of the community will be protected, better sewer connections will be provided and a great many other equally important benefits will be returned to both the city and county."

Walter B. Welschberger, president of the Chamber of Commerce, declared the city could not hope to grow appreciably in population unless it grew in area, as it would be able to do under the consolidation, with the consent of the people in additions taken in. The city and county are joined economically though separated politically, he pointed out, stressing the fact that the consolidation was not an annexation of the county by the city but a metropolitan federation analogous to the Federal Government.

About half of the committee members present indicated they resided in the county, in response to a question by Welschberger. Speaking to them as representatives of their fellow citizens, he demanded: "Don't you people in the county want the same facilities we have in the city? Don't you want co-ordinated planning rather than haphazard growth? If you do business in the surrounding communities, it is on a basis of the reputation of St. Louis. We're all St. Louisans. We're all trading on the business prestige of St. Louis. Companies don't advertise that they are from some municipality in the county but say they are from St. Louis."

If this plan fails, the next one will be dictated by economic necessity, Welschberger asserted, and defeat of the proposed amendment would leave the 1924 amendment, authorizing outright annexation, in effect, although such annexation was described by the speaker as uneconomic.

The audience was asked to make contributions to the campaign fund for the amendment and to seek other subscriptions. Contrary to the assertion of opponents of the plan in the county that the proponents have a $100,000 fund, the sponsors of the movement say they are almost without money.

MISSING JUDGE'S THIRD BANK ACCOUNT IS DISCOVERED

Crater Withdrew $7000 From It Last May; Associate on Bench Before Grand Jury.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A third bank account, hitherto undiscovered, from which Joseph F. Crater, missing Supreme Court Justice, drew $7000 in cash last May, has been found, District Attorney Crain announced today. From two other bank accounts the Justice withdrew about $5000 just before he disappeared Aug. 6.

The District Attorney learned of the third account a few minutes before the convening of the grand jury which began yesterday to consider the disappearance of the missing jurist.

Supreme Court Justice Louis Valente appeared today as a witness.

He expressed the belief the Justice was dead, and declared many of Crater's friends thought he had been robbed and slain after he had displayed currency of large denominations.

"YOU CANNOT ENFORCE PROHIBITION"

BY MAJ. MAURICE CAMPBELL, FORMER ADMINISTRATOR IN NEW YORK

"It Wasn't My Job to Hunt Up Customers for Liquor"

Administrator Campbell Tells of Request From Washington That He Aid (Legally, of Course) in the Disposal of a Surplus Stock of Imported Peach Brandy.

ARTICLE VIII.
MAJ. MAURICE CAMPBELL, former administrator of the Treasury Department, told me a conference in his office on the 13th, 1927, that he thought I could be of service in the disposal of 2,000,000 or 2,000,000 gallons of wine each year to the Jews of New York for their ceremonial purposes.

This would have meant a return to the conditions of 1927 when more than 3,000,000 gallons were issued and flooded the market of New York. I refused to do it. I had offered a proposition by which I would loosen up the sacramental wine, cloaking distribution behind a commission of rabbis.

Former business associate approached me, offering to set my up in the advertising business as a means of discussing the matter of money. When I refused to him any more, he tried to get me of my old friends to press the matter. So I knew that a strong effort was being made to get wine to the Jews.

Lowman incredulous, told Mr. Lowman about this at a conference in Washington and said that he could not understand how I could have been offered money for what I ought to do anyway.

In subsequent months, during a presidential campaign, Republican politicians made strenuous efforts to obtain the Jewish vote in New York City, and I was constantly pressed to increase the issuance of sacramental wine. Many times politicians went to Washington and protested to Mr. Lowman and the Prohibition Commissioner with regard to my curbing the sacramental wine, and I was never actually ordered to increase it as I was the only one who was not.

It was many times that I told him that it might be wise to do so.

I believe the sacramental wine in New York today is a satisfactory, but as indicated in the story of the Strictly Kosher Wine Co., this was not accomplished without trouble, with litigation.

Several years after the establishment of prohibition the bureau in Washington, at the behest of Jewish politicians in New York, permitted in New York the establishment of wine stores; and through an enormous quantity was distributed. No doubt an exposure of this situation, which never came to light, would develop one of the greatest scandals in the history of prohibition. Under Mr. Lowman's predecessor, these wine stores were abolished.

Mills Halted Flow.
In 1925 more than 3,000,000 gallons of wine were issued, nearly 2,000,000 in the four months following the Jewish holidays, which in May, 1925, following the issuance of several rabbi for ceremonial purposes, Mr. Mills arbitrarily cut the issuance of sacramental wine to a negligible quantity, so that in the last nine months of 1925 only about 800,000 gallons were issued.

When I took office, July 1, 1927, continued Major Mills's policy, consequently less than 25,000 gallons of sacramental wine was issued to the Jews during that year.

Because of the scandals the Jews of rabbis ceased their withdrawals, and when I came to office most of the applications for wine came from rabbis. I might be classed as irresponsible under stringent regulation, but the matter of rabbis gained precedence, and in consequence issued 212,000 gallons in 1928 and the same in 1929. There about 2,000,000 Jews in New York, and undoubtedly they do require a certain amount of wine for ceremonial purposes. Even if a rabbi is caught diverting every now and then, it could be explained that a rabbi is not an ordained priest, but a man of learning in the Hebrew language and scriptures, who may or may not be elected head of a congregation. Many who call themselves rabbis are responsible to no one.

Roman Clerk Spurns Bribes.
The fact the agents of my sacramental wine section had frequent use of money, and one young man clerk could have all the stockings and coats she needed.

However, over my disapproval, the commissioner instructed me to issue the permit, which I did in form. This permit has been used from time to time to import mod-

TREASURY DEPARTMENT
BUREAU OF PROHIBITION
WASHINGTON

SEP 20 1929

Prohibition Administrator,
New York, N. Y.

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of September 7, 1929, in the matter of the permit authorized for Mr. Julius L. Horowitz to dispose of 162 cases of silvovitz brandy for sacramental purposes.

In deference to your suggestion as to the withholding of this authority, the Bureau has inquired into the manner in which the brandy, authorized under permit for Emanuel Schwartz of Philadelphia, Pa., was disposed of by the Administrator. It appears that Col. Wynne was able to find a customer for several barrels of silvovitz, formerly imported by Emanuel Schwartz, and it is suggested that you communicate with Col. Wynne at Philadelphia and ascertain whether the parties to whom the Schwartz brandy was sold would not be willing to handle this lot.

Commissioner.

et quantities of Palestine wine, doing business at 320 Grand street.

Mr. Horowitz was represented by Emanuel Hertz as attorney.

48 Per Cent Plum Brandy Imported.
The records in my office disclosed that on March 22, 1925, there was imported into this country, for some purpose of which I am not aware, by Sonn Brothers, under permit N. Y. T-47, 605 cases of silvovitz, totaling in all 1462 silvovitz. Silvovitz is a Jewish plum brandy and this particular lot contained an alcoholic content by volume of 48 per cent. The records further show that on the same date when it was imported it was purchased by the Mirbach Wine Co. at 320 Grand street.

Shortly thereafter the Mirbach Wine Co. applied to Palmer Canfield, then Federal prohibition director, for a special permit to sell this kosher silvovitz. Mr. Canfield recommended to the bureau at Washington that this permit be approved for the sale of silvovitz for non-beverage medicinal purposes.

By some strange chance, a permit was issued to the Mirbach Wine Co. for the sale of this silvovitz for sacramental purposes; and in justice to Mr. Canfield, the records show that he protested against this use of brandy for sacramental purposes.

The records also show that withdrawal papers were issued to Rabbi Klein for the entire balance. On these papers some of the silvovitz probably was issued, but later the withdrawal papers were canceled. All these matters were handled by Mr. Hertz as attorney. Incidentally, there is a lot of correspondence from the Prohibition Bureau pertaining to the matter, all of which does not look exactly kosher.

Asked to Find Buyer.
However, that part of this plum brandy which was not sold under these permits remained in a bonded warehouse, tax paid. I gather that there was a court action at one time with regard to part of it, and the court ordered the bureau to allow the distribution of one lot for sacramental purposes. The Volstead law allows only the use of wine for sacramental purposes.

Under date of Aug. 20, 1929, I was advised in a letter from the commissioner that Julius L. Horowitz, doing business as the Mirbach Wine Co., had requested the bureau for permission to dispose of the remaining stock of about 162 cases of this silvovitz brandy for sacramental purposes. The letter further instructed me to permit the issuance of this brandy for sacramental purposes.

I immediately telephoned the commissioner in Washington and told him that the issuance of the brandy for sacramental purposes was entirely contrary to law, that I would not issue the permit and that, if he wanted it done he would have to issue it himself.

Under date of Sept. 20, 1929, I received a letter from the commissioner which said in part: "In deference to your suggestion

BRUENING CABINET HOLDS ON DESPITE ADVERSE ELECTION

German Chancellor Begins Negotiations Looking Toward Workable Majority in Reichstag.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS ARE HIS ONLY HOPE

President Hindenburg Not to Sanction Sabotage by Strengthened Fascists and Communists.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Sept. 16.—The Cabinet of Chancellor Bruening today decided unanimously to remain in office.

The Chancellor's tenure seemed to depend on the attitude of the Social Democrats, whose representation is 143 in the new body.

Prior to dissolution of the Reichstag, the Social Democrats consistently voted against the Government on matters of importance, particularly economic and financial reform bills.

To get their collaboration the Chancellor probably will have to make concessions which will cost him other elements of his support.

The Cabinet expressed the resolve to continue constructive policies for relief of the economic, financial and social problems of Germany. Bills will be prepared for presentation to the Reichstag.

The Bourgeois took the election much more calmly today than yesterday. There were almost no selling orders and there were even offers of money from America and Sweden.

President von Hindenburg departed for Franconia, where the annual army maneuvers are being held. He will remain there until Friday.

The President, while fully recognizing the mandate of the people in the Reichstag elections, will, it is said, acquiesce in no efforts at sabotage of Parliamentary Government by Adolf Hitler's Fascists who increased their representation in the German legislative body from 12 to 107.

President Loeb of the Reichstag, after a conference with Chancellor Bruening, issued a call for the first meeting of the new Reichstag Oct. 15.

BRIAND PRAISES STRESEMANN Speaks Before 300 Newspaper Men at Geneva.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 16.—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France today paid tribute to Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the late Foreign Minister of Germany, in an address before 300 newspaper men.

"He was a man whom I learned to love," Briand said. "Between us there never was a difference in aim, for both of us sought peace. We could sit down together, in perfect confidence and loyalty to discuss the most serious problems. Generally our discussions yielded a solution." Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Minister, who preceded Briand, said: "Whatever the difference of opinion there may be in our methods, M. Briand and I are absolutely of the same mind in our ambition for peace."

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Sept. 16.
MANY of our people have watched with much solicitude the general election in Germany held last Sunday.

Like other European countries, Germany is embarrassed by a multiplicity of political parties, making effective parliamentary government possible only by a coalition of none too friendly elements. This has been effected heretofore by the Center moderates, opposed by the extreme reactionaries and radicals. When this method broke down in July the Chancellor and President carried on the government under an emergency article of the Constitution. This compelled an election.

As both the radicals and reactionaries are opposed to the republic, and most of the domestic and foreign policies it has adopted the continuity of present policy through parliamentary action depended on the moderates of the Center. They are not strong enough to control parliament and adopt a sound financial program. Between Fascism and Communism the government will be subjected to a severe strain.

Under the Republic the German people have shown a great reserve of courage and reason. The stability of Europe requires its continuance.

CANADIAN PREMIER ASKS FOR INCREASE IN TARIFF

Presents Bill for Upward Revision as Aid to Unemployment Relief.

By the Associated Press.
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 16.—An upward revision of the tariff as a means to aid unemployment was proposed today by Premier R. B. Bennett in a bill presented to the House Committee on Ways and Means.

One hundred and thirty articles were on the list, including iron, steel, gasoline, cottons, woolens, fresh meats, butter and agricultural products.

The Government's bill designed to eliminate the dumping of foreign goods in Canada was before Commons on first reading today. Under the terms of the bill the Government may fix the value for duty purposes of "goods of any kind" provided a Minister of National Revenue reports the goods in question are being imported into Canada under conditions which "prejudicially or injuriously" affect the interests of Canadian producers or manufacturers.

A general revision of the Canadian tariff will be made at the next session of Parliament, Premier R. B. Bennett announced today in Commons. The complete tariff structure of the dominion will be overhauled, the Premier said.

MORROW PLACES WREATH ON MEXICAN MONUMENT
Independence Day Ceremony Without Incident; 30,000 March in Parade.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16.—Ambassador Morrow today placed a wreath on the Independence monument in Mexico City in honor of Mexican Independence day. The Ambassador and his party left the American Embassy at 10 a. m. and placed the wreath on the monument 40 minutes later.

Morrow, as dean of Diplomatic Corps, laid the wreath on the Independence shaft in the Paseo de la Reforma, with the entire Diplomatic Corps and their wives witnessing the ceremony.

There were thousands of citizens watching the brief rites as a part of their celebration of Mexican Independence day, and a parade began shortly afterward, with more than 30,000 Mexican army troops in line.

The wreath exercises were concluded without mishap. Reports had reached Mexico City this forenoon from New York that Morrow had met with an accident. These caused uneasiness for a brief time, but were found to have no foundation.

Economic Combination So Limited, He Thinks Might Provide Unfavorable Reaction on Rest of the World.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 16.—The voices of two neighbors of France—Italy and Germany—today were joined with those of British Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson and others in a plea for drastic measures toward disarmament without waiting for security.

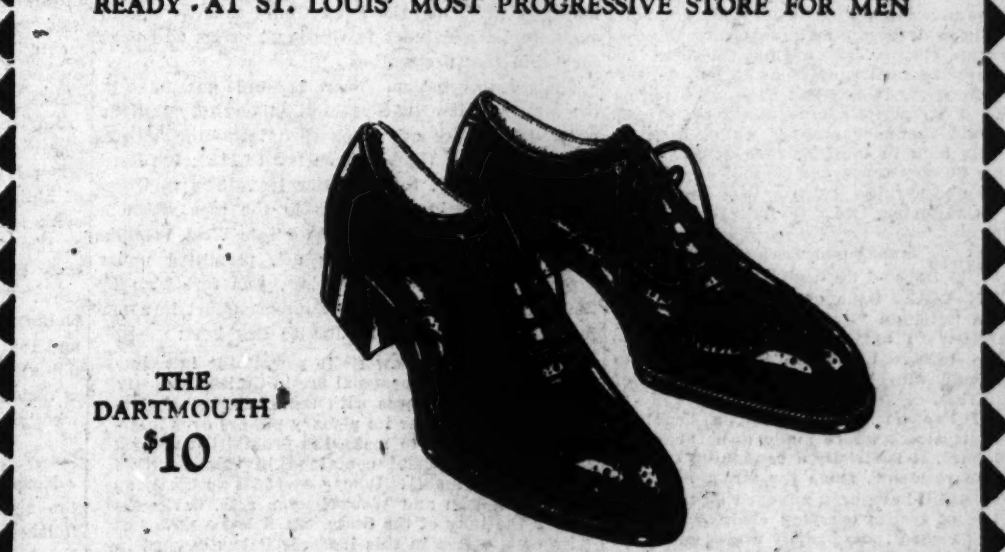

Scialoja, spokesman of the Mussolini Government in the absence of Foreign Minister Grandi, declared in the League of Nations Assembly that Italy was still ready for a disarmament agreement which would reduce armaments to the very lowest level consistent with national safety.

Germany's Foreign Minister, Julius Curtius, announced his own emphatic agreement with the principles enunciated by his British and Italian colleagues. In their appeal for the execution of that provision of the Versailles treaty which commits the victorious Powers of the World War to enter an agreement for a general reduction of their armed forces.

The Poetical Crisis

THE first time there appeared "An Anthology of Revolutionary Poetry," edited by Robert Parsons, under the name of Marcus Graham, and containing representative selections from the poetry of social revolt, it was in time and character from the late Mr. Euripides of Athens. This book, which was published by the late Mr. Euripides of Athens, is now appearing in a new edition, and it is a pity that the late Mr. Euripides of Athens should have been so long in coming to the aid of the poetical crisis.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.

DIPLOMATIC Sunday evenings are a revived this winter in the nation's capital.

Politics and two periods of official mourning played havoc with these after-dinner social events.

A diplomatic Sunday evening is a gathering of Senators and Representatives, Cabinet officers, diplomats and other official and social Washington. It is strictly an invitation affair.

The purpose is better to acquaint the groups with countries other than their own. The guest of honor on each evening is the head of some diplomatic mission to this country. Motion pictures depicting the latest news from the guest's native land are shown, and a dress is made by a member of that particular diplomatic staff.

In other words, opportunity is afforded each guest to "taste the spice of Asia" but feel not the burning sand which bequeathed it.

This winter marks the fifth season of the venture. Last winter, due to unusual activity in Congress and the period of official mourning declared for Secretary War Good and Chief Justice Taft, the programs were disrupted.

The films are shown under the management of the Bureau of Commercial Economics, the organization located in Washington which controls the films of the one foreign Government.

This winter the bureau will present films of Great Britain, Peru, Mexico, Italy, Spain, France, Chile, Belgium, Denmark, Switzerland, Hungary, Finland, Colombia, Panama, Austria, Egypt, Bulgaria, Dominican Republic, Siam, Rumania, Canada, Netherlands, Bolivia, Lithuania, Poland, and those of the United States are navy and marine.

Autia Marie Boggs is director of the bureau. Randolph M. Boggs, her brother, dean. The bureau has been functioning for 16 years, showing educational films throughout the world.

THE scene of these diplomatic Sunday evenings this winter will be in the Shoreham Hotel, out Connecticut avenue overlooking Rock Creek Park. The pictures and addresses will be seen and heard in the ballroom. A huge pipe organ will be used to provide the music of the nation being entertained on each occasion.

Incidentally, the new Shoreham takes the place of the famous old Shoreham which stood for so long on Fifteenth and streets.

Levi P. Morton built the first Shoreham in 1859 when he was Vice President of the United States. Woodrow Wilson had it built there when he was inaugurated President, March 4, 1913. Vice President Morton shall live there two years, and Gen. P. Morton made it his home when he returned victorious from the battlefields of France. Numerous foreign war missions were quartered there in those days.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK.

FORMER newspaper columnist, who as a reporter never had the world in flames, recently crocheted a sign for the passing of capable newspaper reporters. He sprinkled a glistering of tears through several pages of a national magazine.

Many swan songs are sung for the present day reporter with despairing means for "the good old days." I belong to that remote era and would like to sob too, but the tears would be crocodile. The modern newspaper story is 10 city blocks ahead of those of 20 years ago.

And that goes for the Sun in the days of Dana. The reporter today not only has a better style, a sprightlier perspective, but assembles facts more expertly. He also makes under greater pressure and is more reliable. The hard drinking scribe is out like a light.

It is true old time reporters such as Will Irwin, Irvin Cobb, Albert Payson Terhune, Frank Ward O'Malley, Don Clarke and others have gone to bigger literary endeavors, bless them, but it is equally true reporters in the last 10 years are doing even bigger things.

Fifty per cent of Broadway's successful plays, spectacular movies and talks and current best selling novels are being written by men and women who were reporters only a few years ago. Two of the ablest theatrical producers and the head of the biggest film company are in this illustrious list.

Schools of journalism—those of us who began running copy may shrug all we like—are turning out a higher grade product, men and women with better educational equipment and worthier ideals. Too many of us in "the good old days" were more interested in loose Saturday night reporting.

The journalistic school cub knows more about the game when he yanks his first doorbell than the old time cub could learn in a year. The 25-year-old managing editor is no longer "the boy wonder" in the newspaper or magazine field, and I don't want to hear any more about it.

NEWSPAPER work, however, had more of the exciting quality called romance than that today. Efficiency quashed out the charm so ably gloried in tales by Richard Harding Davis. ### GRACE DISPUTES TESTIMONY OF EATON AT STEEL HEARING

Bethlehem Company Head Gives His Version of Negotiations Preceding Merger

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 16.—At the hearing of the United States Radium Corporation, testimony of the evidence of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube-Bethlehem merger, when he was recalled yesterday as a defense witness in the injunction suit against the merger.

Eaton had denied that at a meeting of the principals before the consolidation, he had said he was "unalterably opposed" to the merger. Grace testified that Eaton did make such a statement.

Eaton also had denied a quotation imputed to him that he "had other plans for Youngstown." Grace said he also made that statement. In direct testimony Eaton quoted J. A. Campbell, Youngstown chairman, as stating that he did not have much to do with the merger negotiations, but that they were handled chiefly by Grace and Henry G. Dalton, of Cleveland, a director in both companies. Grace said he did not hear Campbell make any such statement.

U. S. ENVOY'S HOME ROBBED

Irwin B. Laughlin, Ambassador to Spain, Is Victim.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 16.—Provisional who entered Arbalencia, the summer villa here of United States Ambassador Irwin B. Laughlin, obtained considerable loot Sunday. No one was at home at the time.

A statement said that the following articles had been stolen from the Ambassador: A platinum cigarette case which was the Ambassador's wedding gift, gold opera glasses, a large sapphire, several pictures of considerable artistic value, three jeweled shirt studs, a cravat clasp, a silver paper clasp. A guest of Laughlin lost 400 Spanish pesetas (about $25) and 1000 French francs (about $40), while the butler lost 325 pesetas (about $20) and a gold watch.

DISARMAMENT AT ONCE FAVORED BY ITALY, GERMANY

French thesis that disarmament must follow security. Great Britain, Italy and Germany also are generally agreed, their spokesmen have indicated, that any scheme for European collaboration to solve the economic problem must be worked out in the League of Nations itself.

Dr. Curtius was heard with great interest by Assembly observers, in view of the results of Sunday's election in Germany, which sharply reduced the strength of his party in the Reichstag and inflated the representation of the German Nationalists.

The tone of the Foreign Minister's address was regarded as moderate. He reiterated his declaration that, regardless of results of the election, the German foreign policy would continue to follow the conciliatory lines laid down by the late Chancellor Stresemann.

German Frontier Claim. Curtius referred to Germany's desire for readjustment of its frontier. He said that the move for the economic reorganization of Europe as proposed by Briand should be within the League.

Dr. Curtius spoke in German. "We consider," he said, "that it is essential that a disarmament conference should take place at the end of next year. We reckon on a just and equitable solution which will take into account the security of all countries and we reckon on full publicity and a definite reduction of armaments from the outset."

He said that no country had a greater interest than Germany in seeing the widest co-operation between the states of Europe. It was the lack of such co-operation, he said, that had brought on the present grave economic crisis in Europe.

Indian Delegates Speak. The Maharaja of Bikaner, the first Indian delegate, warned the assembly of possible dangerous consequences of the Briand plan. "It is there a danger," he asked, "that in the early years of this league such a confederation may give rise to serious misconceptions? If Europe organizes to consolidate her industrial position, however little she may mean to do so detrimentally to other parts of the world, it may create a situation that no member of the League would wish. Economic action must not be sectional or regional. It must be universal."

Dr. C. C. Wu told the assembly that a confederation of the entire world might reasonably grow from the Briand plan. He pictured the growth of similar unions among other nations on other continents and then gradual amalgamation, as the world progressed in mutual comprehension.

Such a confederation, he said, was predicted by Confucius 24 centuries ago. He added that it was with this idea in mind that Dr. Sun Yat Sen founded the Chinese Republic. He concluded with a brief reference to a plan for harmonizing the Briand-Kellogg pact with the League covenant and declared China would heartily support it.

18 DEATHS ATTRIBUTED TO RADIUM PAINT POISONING

Newark Medical Examiner Discovers Two Additional Cases Not Previously Reported.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 16.—At least 18 former employees of the United States Radium Corporation have been killed by radium poisoning which they had contracted in their work, Dr. Harrison Martland, Essex County Medical Examiner, announced last night. Previously it had been thought that Mrs. Anna Staal, who died from the poisoning Saturday, was the sixteenth victim.

In checking over his records of the 800 girls employed in painting luminous watch dials at the plant between 1917 and 1924, Dr. Martland discovered the two additional cases which previously had escaped his notice.

One of them was that of a man listed as M. W. A., a laboratory worker, who died in November, 1922. The other death was that of Mrs. Amelia Maggia of Orange. According to the Medical Examiner's record, she died in September, 1922.

CLEWS TO MURDER OF GIRL IN INDIANA STILL LACKING

Two Friends Questioned, But South Bend Police Are Satisfied They Know Nothing of Crime.

By the Associated Press.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 16.—Police are still searching for definite clues to the identity of the slayer of 17-year-old Alice Woltman, killed in her home early Sunday. They questioned her relatives and friends in an effort to solve South Bend's second girl murder within a few weeks.

The girl was found, her throat slashed, on the stairs of her home. The slayer had climbed to a roof, walked to the girls' window, entered her room, slashed her throat and disappeared. Not even Alice's eight-year-old brother, sleeping with her, knew when it happened.

Two young men friends of the girl were questioned, but police said no valuable information was obtained. Alex Pietrzak, 18, who said he was engaged to Alice, and Barney Kinszyski, 25, who had been attentive to her, knew nothing of the crime, police were convinced.

Miss Woltman's murder, coupled with the recent slaying of eight-year-old Marverine Appel, caused parents to take extraordinary precaution against allowing their children to be alone on the streets. Many women accompanied their children to and from school.

BELLEVILLE WATER PRESSURE BELOW STANDARD, TESTS SHOW

Council, Investigating $500,000 Fire, to Complain to State Board If Condition Is Not Remedied.

Fire hydrants at Belleville, tested yesterday by Mayor Stegmeyer and members of the City Council, showed an average pressure of 35 pounds, in stead of 60 pounds, as specified in the franchise grant to the East St. Louis & Suburban Water Co.

The tests followed complaints that inadequate water pressure handicapped firemen at the $500,000 fire last week in which the plant of the Oakland Foundry Co. and its subsidiary, the Quality Stove & Range Co., were destroyed. Fire Chief Walter Finklein said the pressure available at hydrants then was between 6 1/2 and 8 pounds.

Chief Finklein told the City Council last night that four-inch mains which supply the industrial district were too small and that the Belleville reservoir and pumping station could not supply enough water. The City Council plans to complain to the Illinois Commerce Commission if the condition is not remedied. The water company's franchise, granted in 1907, expires in 1922.

EXPLOSION IN MEXICO CITY

One Killed, 12 Hurt as 50,000 Celebrate Independence Day.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16.—Police today conducted an investigation of an explosion in the Plaza de la Constitucion, which last night killed one and seriously injured 12 other persons. The plaza was crowded with 50,000 people celebrating Mexico's independence anniversary and awaiting appearance of President Ortiz Rubio on a balcony of the National Palace to repeat into the radio microphones the "Grito de Dolores," or Mexico's independence cry.

Suddenly the explosion occurred, precipitating the utmost excitement. Ambulances rushed the injured persons to hospitals and calm returned. The President appeared, rang the liberty bell and repeated Hidalgo's independence cry and the celebration went on as usual, continuing until dawn.

While the general explanation of the explosion was that a bomb had been thrown into the crowd of merry-makers, police said it might have occurred when a badly sent rocket fell into a group of other fireworks and set them off. It took place on the opposite side of the plaza from the National Palace.

AIR TOURISTS IN CANADIAN GALE

27 Planes in Ford Test Ready to Leave Regina, Sask.

By the Associated Press.

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 16.—After bucking what they described as the strongest winds in their experience, 27 participants in the Ford Reliability Air Tour were here today from Brandon prepared for the next stage of their tour to Moose Jaw.

The first plane to arrive was that of Lee Sheehair, noted American pilot, who made the flight from Brandon in one hour 45 minutes against a wind which at times attained a velocity of 40 miles an hour. He was followed 20 minutes later by the New Cincinnati, Harry Russell, leader to date in total points, was fourth, arriving about an hour after Sheehair. Dust rising to a height of 5000 feet and frequent squalls of rain added to the difficulties of the pilots.

Consistent with its policy of laying the facts before the public, The American Tobacco Company has invited General Samuel McRoberts to review the reports of the distinguished men who have witnessed LUCKY STRIKE'S famous Toasting Process. The following is the statement of General McRoberts:

GENERAL SAMUEL McROBERTS

Director, Armour & Co., American Sugar Refining Co., National Surety Co., Kansas City-Southern Railway; Brig. General, A. E. F.

"Making friends and holding them, by a friendly up-to-date usefulness, is the secret of success in business. This axiom has been the guiding force in the progress of the Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company. And it is obviously the guiding force in your business—as evidenced by your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos."

The decision was the board's answer to an application by Frank A. Morgan of Nolan's Point, Lake Hopatcong, for permission to operate a five-passenger flying boat between Nolan's Point and New York City and to close a portion of the lake to make a landing place for the plane.

FOG POSTPONES THIRD RACE FOR AMERICA'S CUP

Lipton "Terribly Disappointed" Over Poo Showing of Shamrock V After Second Defeat.

By the Associated Press.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 15.—The third race of the series for the America's cup, scheduled for today, was called off at 10:26 a. m. A pea soup fog, which had given signs of lifting, settled down again shortly after 10 o'clock and the committee decided that a race today was impossible.

At 10:20 the committee ordered all boats already at the starting line to return to port and six minutes later hoisted the postponement signal.

Neither the Enterprise, American defender, nor Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V had left port. The fog made navigation difficult, two large yachts, the identity of which was not learned, collided in the harbor but with little apparent damage to either.

Enterprise took the opening race by slightly less than three minutes' margin, but in the second romped home nine minutes, 34 seconds in the lead, approximately two miles of water separating the rivals.

Enterprise' now needs but two more victories to keep the America's Cup, held in the United States since 1851. Shamrock, to lift the cup, would have to take four of the possible five remaining races.

Discretion in Lipton Camp. Within the working forces of the Lipton party there is evidence of rather acute difference of opinion as to the reasons for Shamrock's absolute failure to live up to past performances and expectations. With Sir Thomas himself physically incapable of carrying the burdens of leadership he once gloried in there seemed to be dissension among those seeking to command.

There is the reported accusation from within the party that the tactics of the Shamrock skipper Ernest (Ned) Heard, are at fault in that he has failed to sail definitely in either of the two ways open to him—to sail with the Enterprise and follow her tactics closely or else do exactly the opposite and maneuver without regard for the defender.

Lipton Disappointed. Sir Thomas Lipton, who for 31 years has been trying to lift the America's cup, is terribly disappointed at the second defeat of the Shamrock V. He says bravely, however, that the series for the battered old mug is not over yet, but he feels, as all who saw the Enterprise win yesterday's race, that he has no chance of success.

"I'm terribly disappointed," he said. "I thought she'd do better than that. The Shamrock won't be beaten as badly again as that in this series and you must remember that the series isn't over yet. There will be more chances. She's not the boat she was when we raced in England; she's nowhere near as fast, but I have no alibi, no excuse. The weather has been just what we wanted. Heavier wind would not help her."

"Something very unusual seems to have happened to her. She seems dead under her sails. It might have been the trip over." "I'll have to do something," he concluded, regaining his customary jovial spirit. "Maybe I'll put a crew of girls on there to run her." Suggestive Change in Rules.

Rear Admiral Ralph Grove-Raines of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, Belfast, Ireland, home port and club of Sir Thomas Lipton, who is the guest of Sir Thomas aboard the steam yacht Erin, said yesterday: "England is beginning to realize now that she can never lift the cup as things stand now and probably will never try again. She realizes that if Sir Thomas can't do it with all the millions at his command and all the time and effort he has expended, then the task is impossible."

He thinks the strain of having to cross the Atlantic under her own power—one of the terms of competition for the cup which the challenger must accept—undoubtedly hurt the Shamrock. She looked to be an entirely different boat in trial races in British waters, a fast, keen boat that won the confidence of England beyond any other challenger Sir Thomas had produced in the Shamrock line.

"Now look at her," said Commodore Grove-Raines, "she sails as though she were dragging a crab pot."

He planned to make Sofia, Bulgaria, his first call, and to make subsequent hops greater than had been undertaken in any similar flight.

GERMAN HOUSE BOWLING ALLEY DARKENED IN LEASE DISPUTE
Turned Off Lights for Several Hours; Goes to Court.

Bowling in the alleys in the basement of the German House, Jefferson and Lafayette avenues, was discontinued for several hours yesterday afternoon and evening when the board of directors turned off the electric lights, due to a dispute with the concessionaire over his lease, Theodor Obermeyer, proprietor of the alleys, said today.

Obermeyer's refusal to vacate the alleys on Aug. 31, last, when his lease expired, led to the dispute. Obermeyer asserting the lease had an optional renewal clause. Justice of the Peace Pfeiffer yesterday upheld his contention, the directors of the German House announcing they would appeal to Circuit Court.

A. G. Barrow, manager of the German House, today denied the lights in the bowling hall were turned out. He alleged Obermeyer's alleys were run in a noisy manner that disturbed the other activities in the building and the board decided not to renew his lease.

Only at Lubrite Stations

There is a real reason for using Mobiloil and Mobilgas Ethyl together. They are power mates. Each helps the other to keep your car running smoothly and economically. Only at Lubrite Stations can you get both Mobiloil and Mobilgas Ethyl.

For as far back as you can remember, Mobiloil has been the world's most successful quality oil. As motor cars improved, Mobiloil has kept pace. For a quarter of a century, Mobiloil has kept its commanding position because a famous group of engineers has made it their business to know motors as completely and intimately as it was possible to know them.

Now the makers of Mobiloil have written the specifications of Mobilgas Ethyl. No gasoline has greater knowledge and authority behind it. If there is something in pedigree, that makes a horse, a dog, or a machine better because of the "family" behind it, why isn't it equally true that pedigree gives assurance of higher quality in gasoline also?

But the important thing to you is—not that Mobilgas Ethyl is the most successful gasoline, just as Mobiloil is the most successful oil—but that the two form a power pair.

Together they will give new smoothness to the running of your motor—new freedom from destructive strains—new quiet and economy. They may cost a little more per mile, but they cost far less per year, for they save on both repairs and depreciation!

Watch for the Lubrite sign. Fill your car with Mobil products. Give them the most rigid testing you know, and you'll become a convert for life, as millions have before you.

Dull, lifeless, off-color skin becomes bright, healthy, true-color—radiantly clear! ## 12,758 PERSONS VISIT RADIO SHOW ON OPENING DAY

Automobiles Operated by Wireless on Twelfth Boulevard to Boost Annual Coliseum Exposition

The modern magic of radio is exemplified at the sixth annual St. Louis Radio Show which opened its second day today and will continue throughout the week at the Coliseum.

Under a canopy of purple and gold about $1,000,000 worth of radio sets and accessories, representing virtually every national manufacturer, are displayed, comprising the third largest radio exposition in the country. Only the displays at New York and Chicago surpass it in size. On the opening day the attendance totaled 12,758.

More than 40 radio exhibit booths are ranged about the big oval floor, while there are a dozen or more special exhibits. Radio sets, most of them, incased in handsome cabinets which give scant outward hint of the mechanism within, range in price from about $50 to $819, and afford a decided contrast to sets displayed when radio was in its infancy only a few years ago.

Colors, Indirect Lighting. Bright color schemes and attractive indirect lighting arrangements enhance the appearance of the booths. Plenty of couches and chairs are available, while tiers of seats in the gallery proper surround the entire exhibition, sponsored by the St. Louis Radio Trades Association. Factory experts are stationed at most of the booths.

Visitors to the show are taken behind the scenes of a broadcasting studio. A model studio, with glass walls, hangs over the stage. Programs are presented from this crystal studio twice daily by four local stations. Visiting radio stars include Norman Brokenshire, Columbia Broadcasting Co. announcer, who opened the show yesterday; Ralph R. Richards, contract and auction bridge expert; Harriet Lee, announcer; Irene Beasley, Countess Olga Albani and Joe White, the "silver masked tenor" of the National Broadcasting Co.

The chief stage attraction is presented by Maurice J. Francill, radio engineer and inventor, who yesterday, guided a street car by radio from Third street and Washington avenue to the Coliseum. Francill, who appears each afternoon and night, gives a varied program of wireless control including the manipulation of a miniature battleship. The dry land ship fires broadside signals with blinker lights and maneuvers around the stage.

Autos Operated by Radio. Francill directed several automobiles by radio control shortly after noon today on Twelfth boulevard between Olive and Locust streets. Using substantially the same apparatus employed in his street car demonstration, except that receiving sets on each auto were equipped with revolving relays covering every point of operation, he blew their horns, turned them, lighted their lights, turned on their wipers and guided them slowly by about, as he walked ahead, holding his short wave sending set.

The program this afternoon includes also the Union Electric Cooking School, a bridge lesson by Richards, selections by The Vagabonds, and announcements by Miss Lee and Brokenshire. The afternoon program begins at 2 o'clock and the night events start at 8.

Artists appearing regularly at local radio studios will participate in the programs. The crystal studio program yesterday was presented by KMOX, which sponsors the program today also. KSD will present the program tomorrow afternoon and WIL will sponsor the entertainment at night. KSD will have charge of the program Thursday and Friday afternoon, while KWK artists will entertain on those nights. WIL will present both programs Saturday. The show will close that night at 11 o'clock.

Diversity of Radio Sets. Some of the radio sets on display feature single dial control, while others have several dials. Cabinets range from varnished pine to elaborately carved teakwood. But officers of the show said there was a higher general standard of mechanical excellence than ever before, even the more inexpensive sets affording excellent results.

Special displays include a demonstration of the new and reproduction of sound film, the evolution of the radio and the operation of the Tesla coil, which demonstrates the transmission of power by radio. A mighty spark is thrown four feet through apparatus carrying 1,000,000 volts.

The din and discord of a multitude of sets receiving various programs at once is avoided by silencing all floor sets. All the music comes from the crystal studio or the stage beneath it.

Businesslike Robbers Get $2500. By the Associated Press. DETROIT, Sept. 15.—Two robbers, described by their victims as "very businesslike," held up the Highland Park office of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co. today, bound two women clerks and three men customers and leisurely looted the safe of $2500.

Prove to yourself what a difference the right tubes can make

A free demonstration, in your own home, without obligation, of what Eveready Raytheon 4-Pillar Tubes will do for your radio

IF YOUR radio tells you, with squawks and wheezes, that something is wrong inside, the odds are ten to one you need a new set of tubes. Not just any kind, but Eveready Raytheons—4-Pillar Tubes! Dealers say weak tubes cause 90% of all trouble. Even if your reception is apparently 100%, you'll be amazed at the difference these tubes can make.

You can hear the difference and see the reason
Eveready Raytheons are a SOUND improvement, employing a principle totally new to radio-tubes, but old as engineering science itself. Look at an antenna-tower, or a wind-mill, and notice how it is anchored hard and fast at four points. The elements in an Eveready Raytheon are also anchored at four points . . . by the patented 4-Pillar construction. Elements in an ordinary tube, having only two points of support, can be endangered by the knocks and bumps of shipment, and by vibration from dynamic speakers.

The elements in an Eveready Raytheon . . . the fragile, working parts of the tube . . . are anchored at four points. Held true to the watchmaking accuracy of their position! Protected, permanently, from the time when they are assembled to the time when you can listen to their matchless tone, yourself. The 4-Pillar construction which makes this possible is patented . . . no other tube can use it.

Free Tube Demonstration
We want you to try these tubes, to hear for yourself what a difference they can make in the tone of your radio. Your dealer will be glad to give you a free demonstration, in your own radio-set, at home. No obligation to buy.

Until you try Eveready Raytheons in your radio, you cannot realize fully what a fine musical instrument you have. Telephone, or mail, or present the coupon today—to your nearest Eveready dealer.

EVEREADY RAYTHEON 4-PILLAR TUBES cost no more than any other established brands. Because of their superior quality, therefore, Eveready Raytheons offer you outstanding value at no extra cost.

New Kind of Corn Remedy Ends Pain by Double Action

An entirely new principle for the treatment of corns and bunions is being used in a new remedy. It is called Double Action because it does the two things essential to end corn misery: First, it removes the corn or bunion with a remedy that ends pain instantly. No. 1 remedy to end pain instantly. Then the corn can be removed in a few minutes. Next touch it with No. 2 remedy daily for a few days to keep the corns soft and avoid regret. Treatments that merely reduce the pain do not accomplish the cure. Test Dr. Woofier's Double Action Corn and Bunion Remedy on a corn and bunion. You'll get a guarantee of money back if it doesn't end corn and bunion misery.

New Kind of Corn Remedy Ends Pain by Double Action

An entirely new principle for the treatment of corns and bunions is being used among sufferers. It is called Double Action because it is the one method that does the two things essential to end pain instantly. First, it removes the corn or bunion from the foot. Next, it touches it with No. 1 remedy for a few days to keep the corn bed soft and avoid regrowth. Treatments that merely remove the pain do not accomplish this. Test Dr. Woofler's Double Action Corn and Bunion Remedy on a guarantee of money back if it doesn't end corn and bunion misery.

WIDOW ACCUSED OF PASSING WORTHLESS CHECKS RELEASED

Persons Who Accepted Them Accepted Story That She Needed Money for Food.

Mrs. Mary Ann Howard, 24-year-old widow, arrested last Tuesday on a charge of passing $40 in worthless checks, was released yesterday when persons, who cashed the checks, accepted her story that she resorted to fraudulent checks to provide herself with food and lodging.

A beauty shop worker, Mrs. Howard came to St. Louis from Tulsa, Ok., several weeks ago seeking work, only to learn that her experience was insufficient to let her qualify as a licensed operator. With her funds exhausted and not wishing to worry her parents, who reside in Van Buren, Mo., she cashed checks for small sums, including one for $10 at the Avalon Hotel, Taylor and Pershing avenues, where she was staying, she admitted to detectives.

Chief of Detectives Kaiser, who accepted Mrs. Howard's story that this was her first offense, said persons attracted by the case have promised to send her home to Van Buren.

LOUISVILLE PRISONER ADMITS
HE IS LINGIE KILLING SUSPECT

Ted Gelsing Denies Knowledge of Slaying; Held Without Bond.

By the Associated Press. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 16.—Admission that he was Ted Gelsing, and denial that he knew anything of the Lingie murder in Chicago was made here today by a suspect picked up on a vagrancy charge.

Chicago detectives and an Indiana State policeman identified the suspect as Gelsing. Then George Williams, Chicago detective, brought up a man who he said saw Alfred J. Lingie, Chicago Tribune reporter, shot down, and saw the slayer flee.

"That looks like the man except his hair is different," said this man, whose name was withheld by Williams.

Gelsing denied killing Lingie and said he did not even know him, but, according to police, he admitted he had been a whiskey runner and liquor pirate. He was held without bond on a vagrancy charge and in Police Court his examining trial was set for tomorrow.

Gelsing insisted to reporters that, aside from his helping in a jail break at Rising Sun, Ind., "they haven't got a thing on me."

"I have been in the liquor running racket for almost two years, in and out of Indianapolis," the prisoner said, "but I didn't hang out with Chicago gangs at all. I didn't know Lingie or Zita or any of that outfit and went to Chicago only occasionally."

BROMLEY AND AID GIVE UP
PACIFIC FLIGHT THIS YEAR

Attempt Out of Question Because of Weather; They Hope to Try in 1931.

By the Associated Press. OMINATO, Japan, Sept. 16.—Lieut. Harold Bromley tonight abandoned his attempt to fly across the Pacific ocean this year, but said he hoped to obtain backing for an effort in 1931.

Harold Gatty, co-pilot and navigator, previously had said that another attempt this year was out of the question because of weather conditions.

Replacement of damaged parts in the City of Tacoma would require one month, Bromley said, and it then would be too late to attempt the flight this season. He plans to store the plane in Yokohama during the winter.

Gatty said it was a damaged exhaust pipe and not a leaky gasoline feed line which caused the return of the monoplane to Japan after a flight of almost 25 hours, during which the plane traveled 1200 miles toward its goal.

"The exhaust started leaking soon after we took off from Samashiro Beach Sunday and suddenly exploded when we reached the northern extremity of the Kurile Island chain northeast of Japan," Gatty said.

"The plane was filled with noxious gases. Respiration was difficult and we realized we would be unable to continue for long."

"The return trip was agony and even now I hardly know how we managed it. We both were semi-conscious at times."

OFFERS PLAN TO KEEP ALIENS
FROM TAKING AMERICANS' JOBS

Commissioner General of Immigration, on Radio, Urges Stricter Selection.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—An extension of the principle of selective immigration to insure that no American citizen would be thrown out of work by aliens coming to this country was advocated in a radio address last night by Harry E. Hull, Commissioner General of Immigration.

His address, over the National Broadcasting chain, followed the announcement last week by President Hoover that future applications for immigration visas would be rejected if the applicants were likely to become public charges upon reaching this country.

Hull said 241,700 immigrants entered the United States last year and that it was a reasonable estimate that more than 50 per cent of them "are today displacing American citizens who are gainfully employed."

"Scientific selective immigration is a far-reaching, progressive move to solve our unemployment and farm problem," he asserted.

"If we had selective immigration 50 years ago," he added, "there would have been no under-work problem of the magnitude or character that our peace officers now have on their hands. And while the criminal is primarily a social menace and should be dealt with first as such, he also presents an economic problem of great importance."

HOG MARKET SUPPLY AND PRICE OUTLOOK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—A reduction of 4 to 6 per cent in hog slaughter supply to the lowest point in 10 years, and increased prices for the 1930-1931 marketing year are anticipated by the Department of Agriculture.

Forecasters expect higher prices. The department said they would be accompanied by relatively high feed prices.

"The short corn crop of 1930," the department said, "and the present unfavorable corn ratio is present factors which will tend to bring about a reduction in the fall pig crop."

of 1930 and the spring and fall crops of 1931. This probably will postpone for at least a year the increase in hog production that was expected this fall had could have started this year. Corn production being average or better.

"Slaughter from the 1931 pigs is the largest which will come to market this year. The 1931-1932 may possibly be the smallest, but the 1932-1933 will be considerably smaller than that from the 1931-1932 crop.

"The 1925 pig crop of corn in 1924 and 1925 was the smallest of any year in the short crop of corn in 1924 and 1925, thus being the smallest slaughter 10 to 16 years."

Allenby's Chief of Staff Dies.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 15.—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports that Major General Sir Louis Bols, chief of staff of Field Marshal Lord Allenby, conqueror of Palestine in the World War, is dead at a nursing home in Bath. He was 63 years old.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER GET LIQUOR SENTENCES

Ex-Soldier Who Wrote Fiction in Jail Also Receives Term at Danville.

By the Associated Press.
DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 15.—Two East St. Louisans, Joe Simon and Mike Bonine, pleading guilty of violating the Volstead act, drew the heaviest sentences imposed by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley in a group of liquor cases here yesterday. A sentence of 18 months in Leavenworth Penitentiary and a fine of $500 were imposed on Simon and a sentence of a year and a day in Leavenworth and a $1000 fine on Bonine, both of the men being third offenders.

In addition the court levied a fine of $100 and a 60-day jail sentence on John J. Rennick, East St. Louis, and a 90-day sentence and $200 on Samuel Paul, East St. Louis, both of whom pleaded guilty of liquor law violations.

A Cleveland ex-soldier with a cork leg, who had won the interest and sympathy of authorities during the time he was in jail by writing fiction, manuscripts of which he sent to his wife, was sentenced to a year and a day at Leavenworth.

"Artist and Writer."
The sympathy that had been shown him was considerably lessened, prosecutors in court disclosed, when he branched away from fiction to tell his wife he planned to escape and flee to Mexico, where he would write to her. The supposed story chapter was intercepted. The man, Prescott Magee, gave his occupation as "artist and writer."

Five women were among those sentenced for liquor violations, three being in one case from Lawrenceville. Mrs. Lovie Chastain was sentenced to six months in jail and a $200 fine; her 19-year-old daughter, Violet Chastain, received 30 days in jail and a $300 fine, and Mrs. Nora S. Piper, 50 years old, owner of the house in which the sale was made, received 60 days in jail and a $100 fine. Mrs. Piper, who, with Violet Chastain, had spent 59 days in jail awaiting trial, said that the house was rented to Mrs. Chastain when the sale occurred.

Other Liquor Sentences.
Other sentences in liquor cases were: Daniel Stafford of Herricks, 60 days and $100; Harvey Reed, Lawrenceville, six months and $800; Morris Grossman, Champaign, 60 days and $200; William C. Raddock, Benton, 30 days and $200; Violet C. Whittington, Benton, 10 days; Nora Jackson, Pinckneyville, three months in jail when the sale occurred.

A State sentence she is serving expires.

Austin Kirkwood and Anson Clark, reputed "big shots" in the liquor business in Lawrence County, pleaded guilty to violations of the Volstead act, Kirkwood being sentenced to six months in jail and a $500 fine, and Clark to three months in jail and $100. H. Boyd Miller of Champaign was sentenced to a year and a day at Leavenworth on his plea of guilty to interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

GoodFoods' Largest Market

The miracle wrought by low prices

"Chain stores are of real benefit not only to the consumer, but also to the grower of foodstuffs... The chain store is raising the standard of food products at lower costs to the consumer."

No friend of chain stores said this. It was addressed by Dr. James E. Boyle, professor of rural economy at Cornell University, to a recent meeting of the Farmers' Marketing Conference in the University of Maryland.

Dr. Boyle, like everyone else who has studied the subject without prejudice, puts his finger on the point of vital importance to customers of A&P. They enjoy the highest standards of eating at lowest cost to themselves.

They raise the standard of food products by their steady buying of the best. So, too, their buying encourages ample supplies of the high grade food they demand and can afford to pay for in A&P stores.

That is why A&P stores are the largest market in the world for food only the few could buy if A&P did not cut the cost to the bone.

THE MARRY —GO— ROUND

By Helen Rowland

Marriage Is Marriage!

A wife is the only guaranteed safety device for protecting an irresponsible man against women.

It's funny how a man, who would be far too wise or cautious to put a committal line on paper, simply can't resist the temptation to have himself "snapped" in his bathing suit beside a dressing maid.

There are a saint and a Clio in every woman; and, in the same woman, a good man may see the eternal Clio, and a take the eternal saint—because that is what each of them happens to be looking for.

Some husbands appear to take off their office affiliability with their office coats, and to bring home only their threadbare nerves and their faded interests under their topcoats.

The caution with which a bachelor plays the sentimental game is surpassed only by the careless capture with which a married man plunges into every new situation.

When a man brings his wife home a bottle of unusually alluring perfume, after "a little business trip," somehow, she can't help wondering where he got the IDEA.

Love, happiness and a lot of things in life may be vague and indefinite, but marriage is marriage, a flivver is a flivver, and a fortieth birthday is an unequivocal calamity.

Grandmother May have been a clinging vine, as they tell us, but in the old-fashioned daguerotype she certainly appears to be "holding Grandfather down" with that firm, small hand on his shoulder.

A man's idea of "luck in love" consists in getting safely and gracefully out of a sentimental affair before he gets too far in it.

After marriage, alas, the flame of love so often subsides into a smoldering resentment.

My Daughter, hear now the miseries of a Chorine, which she chanted with much sadness and weeping.

"Ah, alas!" wailth the Siren of Broadway. "Feed me with terapin and stay me with joy-water! For I am full of sorrow and bitterness; and what do all my past glories avail me?"

For behold, what CHANCE hath an innocent, unsophisticated Chorus Girl beside a worldly-wise debutante or a college flapper?

Behold, once women envied me, dancels prebentled at thought of me and men followed after me; and I was known in the land for my dangerous alligments and my conquests. My looks of apen gold were the glory of the White Way and the delight of millionaires and butter-and-eggs.

My charms, my wisdom and my worldly sophistication were carter to the callow youth and champagne to the elderly.

Men said of me, "Verily, SHE understandeth men." Yea, she is the Eternal Chamber, the spice of life and the diversion from boredom. And, beside her a simple maiden is tamer than a church festival beside a Paris night-club.

But, alas, it hath come to pass that the Flapper and the Coed and the Stenographer and the Debutante have beaten me at mine own game; and the Modern Damsel hath outstripped me in wisdom and daring.

"For, where I roamed, she palmeth her face as with house paint; where my looks were perfume, her kisses are scented with lip rouge and spikenard and patchouli.

"Lo, she knoweth it ALL, and there is nothing concerning men and the love-game whereof she is not wise.

"She hath the youth of the 'chickens' and the knowledge of the Serpent, the alendence of sixteen and the Experience of forty-six.

"She sitteth not back in the Debutante's Corner, but grabbeth the spotlight; she waiteth not to be sought by the WOOPER, but rusheth out and "flangeth" him.

"She puffeth a cigarette with the sang-froid of a clubman; she displayeth her knees and is proud OF it.

"She speaketh an unknown tongue. She chatteth casually of psychonapels and sex. Her slang is fresher than new spring vegetables and spicier than wine.

"She maketh me to look like a FLEUDE!

"Go to! If a Chorus Girl is as champagne, the Flapper is of a Vintage!

"Yea, she is headier than the Flapper Drink!

"Verily, verily, I shall sit at her feet, and learn of her wisdom.

"For I am but a Simple Thing, beside her.

"My Yague bath passed—and I am no longer IT!"

By FAITH BALDWIN Who Wrote "The Office Wife"

CHAPTER XXIII

After they left the place, having eaten most to none of the food put before them, and went to a motion picture theater, sitting there in the darkness, together, hands clasped, like any lovers. When he took her home.

"I can't come in!"

"No, dear?"

He kissed her as they stood together in her little hall, kissed her with a demanding ardor born of despair. They clung together for a long moment, two bewildered children caught up in a mass of error and entanglement in which their hands clasped, like any lovers.

She left the office shortly after and took a position in a stock-exchange place downtown. Stephen set his jaw and worked doggedly.

His new secretary complained at him. "A grinch," she summed up, touching her blond hair with apparent finger tips. "He's not how much he drives you—just as soon you cracked up under it as not. Getting a smile out of that bird is as easy as pulling an unwedged wisdom tooth. No wonder he's the best damn quitter!"

But some are in the office married at a word or two into their audience, and she regarded Stephen henceforth with a mixture of curiosity and pity, and confined to her best young man that she'd give three signed pictures of her favorite cinema star to get a look at her predecessor.

Two and Stephen met several times a week, always passing out somehow unless Gertrude was at home with a crowd. And winter slipped slowly, idly, into spring.

They were both worn thin with the burden of their lives.

Stephen was irritable, apt to fly off the handle at the least provocation. It wasn't helping him in business. He had to keep so still a control of himself and his betraying nerves that when he met Eve he was edgy, tense, fine-strung as a wire at the snapping point. And in her way, she knew, she felt the same pressure.

The little, scorching earnestness of touch of hand, the kiss when he left her at her home—careless smashed and hasty because neither dared anything, more—were irritating, left each shaken and unhappy.

One night, riding uptown on the bus, a spring night all scented with winds that had lately blown across the building fields and whispered in the sap-entwined trees; a night lit by a slender moon, almost like a silver sword and as piercing; a night of stars and dew he said, sharply:

"The dearth of air."

She had expected it for some time. But her heart was lead in her breast, and she folded one hand in another to stay their shaking.

"Stephen?"

"I mean it. Oh, you can't know, you can't feel the way I do," he uttered. "You're a woman."

"A woman who loves you," she said, swiftly.

"I don't doubt it. I never have.

I know you love me. I thank God for it," he told her, inconsequently happy at the mere of his unhappiness. "It isn't that. No, no, no.

Not a woman, Eve, just a girl—a little girl. You can't understand you're so—old!" he said, inadequately.

"Cold? With every fiber in her quivering at his scornful. Cold?

Her eyes filled with tears.

"No."

He was sorry, at once. He took her shaking, unglowed hands and held them in his own.

"I'm sorry—I didn't mean."

Oh, my God, Eve, it's so damned difficult!"

"They want the rest of their way in silence. And when they have reached her door he took her in his arms and held her there longer than he had dared do in weeks.

"Let me come in . . . please."

W

THOUT a word, so terribly

sorry for him, so weak her self did she feel, she handed him the key.

They went together into the empty room. Presently Eve was taking off her things, searching for time. The room, when she went back to him, seemed curiously small . . . they seemed to fill it, those two.

He drew her down on the couch beside him, held her, without mercy.

"I love you—I can't go on," he said, hoarsely. "Tell that man a heart."

"Stephen, don't you want me?"

another even to the man there beside her.

"Forgive me," she said, very low, "I was out of my mind. I can't Stephen—I can't. I'm a coward, I guess—a quitter. But I can't."

AND while he stared at her, trying to adjust himself, she said him, swiftly:

"It wouldn't last . . . it would not have foundation. We'd be happy just for a little while—and then we'd be miserable. Both of us.

We can't do it. We won't out-live for it. We aren't the type.

We can't be reckless and mad and happy. It isn't us. We want the same things; we want to look the world in the eyes; we want to have our own life open—like a window to the sun. We want a home, children, everything. And we can't have it this way—the way

we're going."

"So?" He dropped his arm from her shoulders. Physically he was shaken with the turn of events

the precursor of surrender and then before he could quite realize it with her denial, her sudden declaring remoteness.

She put her hand on his, she asked him fractionally:

"I am right . . . tell me I am.

Stephen, what drew you to Charlotte?"

He said, quietly:

"Yes, you're right . . . only . . .

just wanting you the way I do . . .

that isn't all . . . it isn't even half—you know, you believe me?"

"I believe you."

She leaned to him and they kissed and each knew that the lips were remanent.

After a moment, she rose and walked restlessly about the room.

Stephen and there, his head bowed, his hands clasped between his knees. If he went—and he must go—it would be—her.

Eve wandered over to the table.

Some mail lay there for her where

Gertrude, leaving the house later than her friend, had placed it.

She picked up the envelopes and ran them through with her fingers. One was from her mother, with a postmark of a Southern coast state. She dropped it as if it had burned her. Well, she had saved her. She thought—her mother.

Another envelope in a familiar hand arrested her attention. She opened it. She had to do something. She couldn't look across the room to Stephen . . . she couldn't look into his eyes—not

now. She wasn't strong enough.

Yet, she might be some day, she thought dully, when she was very old and the blood of youth had turned to the child, thin blood of age and her hands and lips and white, singing flesh no longer made their demands . . .

HE knew the handwriting, but could not place it. She read:

"Dear Eve—"

I'm back in town. Tried to get you. Called your old office

THE WAY OF A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall

Women Work—and How.

WHAT the newest census figures have to say about women is of decided interest. William M. Stewart, census director, aptly celebrates the week and month beginning with Labor day by summarizing for the public the 1930 census returns on women and the work they are doing. Here are the principal points he makes:

Women are now engaging more actively in industry, trade and office work than ever before, and of the 37,000,000 females between the ages of 16 and 64, about 10,000,000 are engaged in gainful occupations.

In addition to these 10,000,000 women, there are perhaps 23,000,000 housewives engaged in the work of keeping their own homes, most of them doing themselves the major part of the work involved in keeping the home.

Adding these housewives to the 10,000,000 classified for statistical purposes as "gainful workers," the total amounts to about 33 per cent of the whole number of women in the age group under consideration, or practically the same as the percentage of men in gainful occupations.

That is to say, the percentage of women who work approximates closely the percentage of men who work.

THIS statistical summary from the highest and most authoritative source, should end, in the United States today, all masculine gibes at feminine idleness. There are certain hackneyed phrases in which these gibes find expression—"idle wives," "idle, gossiping women," "pampered, indolent women," "idle, malicious females," "women with nothing to do but make trouble," "parasites"—phrases of which women have become justifiably weary. For the accusations simply do not fit any but isolated feminine types.

Most American women, like most American men, are one way or another working for their living. Most American women have jobs and do them.

We are glad that Mr. Stewart has not made the too common error of blaming "working women" for those who work for pay envelopes. If wife and mother who does all her own work and takes care of two or three small and lively children is at least as ardently employed as the girl who sits at a typewriter from nine to five, that foolish skepticism should take over for 24 hours the combined job of mother and housemaker.

In fact, we've received an outburst of righteous indignation from Charlotte B. Wrensch, because we suggested last week that office women out of work turn temporarily to housework.

"It is just as intelligent to advise the female office worker to go in for housework as to advise her brother male worker to go in for rickshaws," fulminates Mrs. Wrensch. "Granted that the office worker has a higher degree of intelligence than the average houseworker, what she hasn't got is experience and skill and physical strength to stand up under the most exacting of jobs."

We happen to have done enough

Anne Nichols in Seclusion

Author of "Abie's Irish Rose" Denies Stories of Love Affair With Business Manager Who Is Now Ill and Being Cared for by Her.

By A. L. WOOLDRIDGE.

William de Lignemare.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 15. IN her ranch house, high on a hill overlooking the San Fernando Valley, Anne Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose" and other books and plays, is passing her days in seclusion.

In a quiet, curtained room into which come breezes from the mesa and the scent of roses from the garden, the Marquis William de Lignemare, her former manager, is fighting for his life. Thrombosis, the doctors call it, a clot of blood on the brain. Moving softly about are Miss Nichols' mother, her married sister, her son and the servants.

Deeply hurt, Miss Nichols points to stories recently printed in which she is quoted as saying that because she told the Marquis she could not marry him, he suffered a nervous breakdown and that she felt morally responsible for his condition, hence was caring for him at her California ranch.

"It isn't true," she cried to the correspondent. "I never said it was my fault. Such a statement on my part would, in the first place, be exceedingly bad taste. I have given out no statement at all. The Marquis was much shaken up in the market crash and then he fell, cutting a long gash across his forehead, and presently the blood clot developed. He is ill."

"Now I have brought him to California and called in the best physicians and surgeons. Surely, one can do that for friendship's sake. He has a brilliant mind and he has been my business manager for years. We have been and are the best of friends, so why shouldn't I do everything I can for him? The doctors hold out hopes for his ultimate recovery. Every man I ever went with was reported engaged to marry me. No one has talked of friendship."

"Probably the most torturing thing printed was the paragraph which said: 'Our business association led to romance. We became engaged and then I realized that if we were married it would mean the end of my career.'"

"My career? Miss Nichols repeated. "My career is that 12-year-old boy splashing around out there in the swimming pool. He's everything. He's my career and writing is my work. I've had two children—I was married at 18, you know, to Henry Duffy, the play producer on the West Coast. My first baby died at birth. I'd have had 12 if I could. Children don't interfere with a career.

"I do my work principally at night and I'm a hound for it. Do you know that when I was married to Mr. Duffy and appearing as a trouper doing one-night stands, I washed clothes, did a bit of gas jet cooking, took care of my baby, wrote plays, acted in our shows and directed my husband in private rehearsals?"

"The trouble today is that most women don't love a man to distraction when they marry. Too many do it to get a home and a meal ticket—there's dynamite in that sentence, but it's true. I thought

Mr. Duffy the grandest thing that ever lived when we married. We had 14 between us, one of which went for the marriage license and two more to pay the minister. We were very, very happy for almost five years.

"I am firmly of the opinion that the couples best mated are those who have an interest in common in some work and who have babies. On the other hand, there are women without children who shower upon their husband a starved mother love which results in happy unions.

"Women feel differently about such things. They've got to have something to mother. I wrote a play on that topic once under the title, 'A Little Bit Old Fashioned.' May Robson appeared in it on the stage. The pivotal line in it was,

Anne Nichols and her son, Henry.

"John's all the children I've ever had a lot of feminine bugs come and talk to me about careers. I never think of my work as such a thing. A woman's career is her home. If I loved my husband and he came to me and asked that I give up my work and just take care of the home I would do it. That is, you understand, if I loved him. Because love is the greatest of all things in the world, but he shouldn't ask it."

A black crepe frock, lightened by touches of white at the neck and cuffs, will not come amiss in her afternoon wardrobe.

The campus girl's hat generally will be small and chic, worn pulled back to make a frame for her face and tilted a bit to one side to reveal her softly-waved hair.

It may be a beret of velvet or felt to match or harmonize with her coat, or a close-fitting felt rolled up a bit in front and finished side or back with a jaunty feather.

Turkish tobacco being grown experimentally in Ontario under a Greek expert's supervision is said to be nearly frost-proof.

When she wants to dress up a bit for that afternoon date she is apt to choose a frock of wool lace, a new fabric of the winter season, or one of the colorful silk crepes. There are crepes of green, red, brown and blue, plain or shot with

SMART MODES FOR COLLEGE GIRLS

By Adelaide Kerr.

THE college girl who starts in quest of her B. A. this fall also will hope to acquire a B. S. (Bachelor of Style), for the clothes she wears to class will be as important to her as the marks she receives.

The campus girl of 1930-31 may not wear her winter woollens underneath her frock as her grandmother did, but they will be an outstanding note of her class and daytime wardrobe, nevertheless.

Wool frocks, three-piece suits and coats will be the things she generally dons when she trips to class on frosty mornings or to football games on sunny afternoons.

Her campus coat may be of monotone tweed in green, brown, black or blue, collared with racoon and lined with dyed rabbit, say style experts of John Wanamaker's, which has opened a department catering to needs of the college girl.

Or she may choose a belted model of alpaca pile, lined with gay polka-dot crepe.

If she can have a fur coat, too.

GUARD THAT well-groomed smile

ANIMATION IS PERSONALITY—an attractive smile is one of the best assets any man can have. And how surely it depends upon healthy teeth and gums! But how will you decide the best way to care for yours? You notice so many conflicting theories. You see dozens of different dentifrices. What is right? * * * E. R. Squibb & Sons asked a leading research institution to tabulate the opinions of 50,000 dentists. Read the summary of the replies received:

95% of the answers stated that germs cause most frequently cause tooth decay and gum irritation.
95% of the answers agreed that the most serious trouble occurs at the Danger Line, where teeth and gums meet.
85% stated that the best product to prevent these acids from causing decay and irritating the gums is Milk of Magnesia.

Squibb Dental Cream is made with more than 50% Squibb Milk of Magnesia. Surely this is strong evidence that Squibb's will protect your teeth and gums. * * * Use it regularly. Squibb's cleans safely and thoroughly—without the use of grit or astringents or anything which might injure enamel or gums. It is especially refreshing before and after smoking.

Talks to PARENTS

By Alice Judson Beale

Encourage Him

SCHOOL school will begin again. Children with a successful last term behind them will start off term enough to begin work once more, and confident of their ability to acquire themselves well.

But what of the children who have been left back who must start the new term with a record of failure behind them?

They are forced to repeat work with which they must, on the whole, have highly unpleasant associations. They must start under the burden of previous defeat.

Too often the child who was left back is allowed to return to school feeling not only the stigma of failure, but also the frown of parental disapproval.

Under such circumstances it is no wonder that he often does very little better the second time than he did the first. For children learn quickly and well only when they are in a happy frame of mind.

Whatever is learned to the accomplishment of distress and worry is slowly learned and quickly forgotten.

If your child is one of those who, for one reason or another, will be repeating a term's work this fall, see to it that you do your share toward giving him a chance of decent success.

Make him feel that you are sure he now will retrieve all past failures by the good work which he is bound to do. Make him regard the repetition of a grade not as a punishment, but as an opportunity to make good.

If you think he needs extra help, see that he gets it without being made to feel that he is giving you any special concern on the score of his school progress.

Pork requires more cooking than any other meat.

sick headache biliousness

"I HAVE used Black-Draught off and on for twenty years. I first began using it for biliousness and sick headache. These sick headaches would unfit me for work, three or four days at a time. I have never found anything that relieved me as Black-Draught did. It is also good for indigestion and colds. I am glad to recommend it to others because I know from my experience, in long years of use, it will do the work."

NEW PARIS FROCKS ELABORATE

IN the new season's frocks we'll be wearing the soft feminine lines to which we are by now accustomed; but what astonishingly clever elaborations! Paris says we are to become more elegant, but there will be elegance to satisfy every different fancy. Here is the good news "translated from the French" by Eleanor O'Malley in McClure's for October:

"New that French models for the coming season have actually arrived, there is no longer any doubt that all the preliminary news about a richer, more elegant mode had a good foundation on fact. Even though the past months have accustomed us to soft feminine lines, these new French frocks and coats reveal a very decided departure in the direction of still more elaboration.

"For the rare woman looking for severely practical straight lines, Paris offers sports clothes, to be worn for practical uses. But even among sports fashions, these form a type by themselves, the exceptions that prove the rule of more softness and femininity.

"Otherwise, even town costumes and street clothes interpret simple lines in flattering ways. The new suits are a striking illustration. In contrast to the suits of other years that combined simple skirts with jackets that varied only slightly in design, the new suits have all the variety of silhouette and individuality of detail possible in a dress, and the fabrics may be anything from serviceable tweeds to soft lustrous velvets. Street frocks and coats are also noteworthy for a new variety. Their general effect is simple and practical but invariably to some clever feature of cut or detail lifts them out of the commonplace.

"In afternoon frocks, most of the new variations take the form of accenting the natural figure, wrapping or draping or molding the waist into slender lines and making it appear more slender by wide shoulder treatments in capes and scarfs and wide hemlines produced by fullness.

"Soft heavy folds arranged in new ways that bring out all the grace of long sweeping lines form the favorite theme in evening frocks. Even where the silhouette is broken by a bolero of a peplum or a flounce, length of line remains for the most important feature."

HOW IT BEGAN

By RUSS MURPHY

Glass kitchen ware is becoming a popular substitute for metal and wood. Cooking vessels, dish pans, rolling pins and other useful articles made of glass have been found to have many advantages over the old-time utensils.

Foods cooked in glass are usually served piping hot since they may be carried directly from the stove to the table. The glass pieces not only look attractive but they save the housewife's time, eliminating the work of transferring foods from one dish to another.

Glass utensils have the added advantage of being easy to scrape and wash. Scouring is seldom necessary. If food sticks to the surface, they need only to be soaked for a while in hot, soapy water, then washed in the same way as the rest of the table dishes.

A Touch of Frost.

If a touch of frost has bitten the green tomatoes, drop them while still cold into cool water and allow them to stand a while. They are then less likely to spoil than if allowed to warm quickly.

Summer Memories.

About now we are wondering how we can get the grass stains out of our summer flannels. Cover the stains with glycerine and white of egg mixed, using equal quantities. Leave on for a few hours and then wash in the usual way.

rain Prices Are From Steel Trade Journal Scattered Breaking From Hand-to-Hand Buying.

the Associated Press, NEW YORK, Sept. 17. The stock market struggled under a wave of speculative selling. Prices were irregular at the close, with a slight gain in the volume of 1,188,500 shares, the smallest turnover since Aug. 1, when 1,090,210 shares changed hands. The market made a slight advance until the late afternoon when profit-taking reduced gains, which had been 2 to 3 points in the afternoon. Bullish sentiment was strengthened by the news which reported that the production of steel was only marginally below the production of a year ago, a trend noted. Bears who had been active in the market since the week of the steel report, were very slow. Speculation for most of the afternoon. The utilities were mostly heavy, and there was little disposition for the pivotal industry. Utilities Are Higher. Grain prices were higher. Wheat finished 1/2 cent above 7 1/2 cents. Corn rallied to 1 1/2 cents, moving in sympathy with cotton. Cotton was 1 point higher at the close. Utilities up a point. United American Telephone & Power & Light, Columbia Southern, American Electric Power, American Public Service, Southern California, and Pacific Lighting. Ward Baking "A" featured in food group with an advance. Miscellaneous firm advanced. Worthington Pump & Machinery, Stone & Webster, and International, up. Exchange rates were steady. American currency and European rates advanced. Steel Industry Situation. The iron and steel industry reported little or no change in production averages during the week, nevertheless found inquiry was improved. "Steel" said the inquiry in the past few weeks maintained, "superficially, it voiced a unanimity of opinion that the corner had been put on the industry, although concerning the rapidity of recovery, indications were not so clear." There was a large consignment of products appraised at $100,000,000. "Iron Age" noted scattered breaking away from the bottom-to-mouth buying, the situation from that policy. The trade paper remained unchanged. Capacity, while the industry reported a 2 per cent increase to the same operations at Cleveland. "Steel" have advanced 10 per cent and at Buffalo 12, but Birmingham was down 2 to 15 per cent. Money was plentiful and the rate 2 per cent call was in some time. At the Stock Exchange, the funds promptly were expected that the Federal Reserve would have been stimulated by the end of the week.
